All other acts or parts of acts in so far as they require the approval of the grand jury of any action affecting county bridges are hereby repealed

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, this bill, if you will notice, provides for quite a change in the administration of the affairs of the county, in that it intends to do away with the submission to the grand jury of the question of the necessity of building bridges by the County Commissioners. This, as you know, has always been a safeguard, from time immemorial, to the taxpayers of the county. Some of you, perhaps, do not know the nature of the proceedings. A petition is presented first to the court asking that a bridge be built by the county at a certain place. Now, that is submitted to two grand juries. The grand juries of the county stand between the people of the county, and the persons who are asking for the bridge. These two grand juries examine into the question. They meet, as you know, at the regular terms of court, when everybody knows they meet, and the persons interested for and against the proposition or for or against the prayer in that petition, appear before that grand jury and either advocate for or protest against the necessity of the building of that bridge. It seems to me this is a departure from a course which has always been a safe course, a course, as far as I know, against which there has never been any criticism. I have been unable to find out why at the present time this should be taken away from that tribunal, which has always been considered the tribunal nearest possible to the people of the counties, that tribunal, which sits at the beginning of each session of your court and which first passes upon the liberties of the citizens of the county; that tribunal which is clothed with all the dignity with which it is possible to clothe any tribunal. This tribunal deliberates and then if it reports after the second term of the court, the court then examines it and if the court approves that report, then the bridge is built. It seems to me that this is an unnecessary departure when it comes to the question of the expenditure of large sums of money.

When this law first came into vogue the men in the counties were just as honest as the people are today. At that time the building of bridges cost practically nothing alongside of the expense today. In days of old wooden structures would do and the cost of building them was a very small one alongside of the expense at the present time. At the present time the building of bridges, calling for reinforced concrete because of the kind of travel that goes over them, costs a great deal more money, the expense is far greater than it was when this law was first enacted. It seems to me that the necessity of a bridge should first be passed upon by your grand juries, that the question should be left to them to pass upon the expenditure of these large sums of money.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1074, as follows:

An Act to further amend section forty-nine of an act approved the fifth day of May one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine (Pamphlet laws one hundred and ninety-three) entitled "An act entitled an act to create a Bureau of Building Inspection and to regulate the construction maintenance and inspection of buildings and party walls in cities of the first class

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That so much of section forty-nine of an act approved the fifth day of May one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine (Pamphlet Laws one hundred and ninety-three) entitled "An act entitled an act to create a Bureau of Building Inspection and to regulate the construction maintenance and inspection of buildings and party walls in cities of the first class" which as amended by an act approved the fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred and one (Pamphlet Laws four hundred and sixty-nine) entitled "An act supplement to an act entitled 'An act to create a Bureau of Building Inspection and to regulate the construction maintenance and inspection of buildings and party walls in cities of the first class' approved the fifth day of May one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine" reads as follows

"When located on a corner lot that portion of the premises bordering on the side street and not required for the uses of the theater may if such portion be not more than twenty feet in width be used for offices stores or apartments Provided the walls separating this portion of the theater proper are carried up solidly to and through the roof and that a fire-proof exit is provided from the theater on each tier equal to the combined width of exits opening on opposite sides in each tier communicating with balconies and staircases leading to the street in a manner provided elsewhere in this section" be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows

"Any portion or portions of the premises bordering on a main street not required for the uses of the theater may be used for offices stores or rooms for similar purposes Provided the walls seilings and floors separating such portion or portions from the theater are built or constructed of such fire-proof materials as shall be approved by the Bureau of Building Inspection and the Fire Marshall and that the portion or portions so used for offices stores or rooms for similar purposes shall be of first-class construction and shall have no openings connecting such offices stores or rooms for similar purposes with the theater proper And also that a fire-proof exit is provided from the theater on each tier equal to the combined width of exits opening on opposite sides in each tier communicating with balconies and staircases leading to the street in a manner provided elsewhere in this section"

The majority required by the Constitution having voted the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

SENATE MESSAGE.

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, April 7, 1921.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That Senate Bill No. 480, File Folio 977, entitled, "An Act to provide for a second additional law judge of the several courts of the twelfth judicial district," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, in the first reading calendar this morning there was one of my bills and when it came up on first reading the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Stadtlander, took advantage of my absence and had this bill recommitted. I want to say to the gentlemen of this House that I believe that I have been treated most unfairly in this House. One bill after another that labor is interested in is either pickled or railroaded on this floor. There is no one who will accept honorable defeat any more gracefully than I will when it is fairly brought about, but the time has come when labor will ask for a just right on the floor of this House. Let me say to you that I believe any man who will take an unfair advantage of another by this kind of damnable trickery should not be permitted in this House of Representatives. I intend, gentlemen of this House, to have my rights and I am going to stand from now on to the last of the session and fight for my rights in this House. I have been patient. Hearings have been held upon this bill and I have been fair. Amendments have been offered to this bill and have been considered, but now some lobbyists who are opposed to this bill are sneaking around in the dark here and are trying to railroad this legislation back into committee for no other purpose than to bring about its defeat. In the first place, I want a reconsideration of the vote of this House on recommitting this bill to a committee, because the number, "House Bill No. 556" is not the proper number of the bill, and I ask for the reconsideration of that vote and that the bill be replaced on the calendar because it is under the wrong number.

Therefore, because it has been recommitted as No. 556, which is a Senate bill that has been sent over to this House, I ask for the re-consideration of the vote by which it was recommitted and that it be left upon the calendar. On page 27, at the bottom of the page, the number appears 556, which is not the number of the bill. My bill is 559 and, therefore, if it has been recommitted under 556 that is a mistake. I therefore move that the vote by which this bill No. 556 was recommitted be reconsidered.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Walker, state his point of order?

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is, that we are not on the first reading calendar; we are on third reading and final passage and, therefore, the motion is out of order.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will sustain the point of order. After that bill has been recommitted to a committee, the committee is entitled to that bill for a period of ten days. The Chair, however, can entertain a motion to reconsider a vote at this time.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House reconsider the vote by which this bill was recommitted.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. STADTLANDER. My point of order is, that the gentleman cannot make a motion to reconsider inasmuch as he was not present in the House and did not vote.

The SPEAKER. The Chair sustains the point of order.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, I was present and voted on that motion, and I will renew the motion of the gentleman. I move that we reconsider the vote by which the House recommitted House Bill No. 556.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER. The Chair will at this time state to the members of the House that whenever they have bills on the calendar they should be in their place on the floor of the House and take care of the bills. There is no reason why a man on the floor of the House cannot make a motion at any time to recommit a bill that is on the calendar. The Chair makes that as a general observation.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The bill is placed on the calendar.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1082, as follows:

An Act requiring the display of the flag of the United States at entertainments public gatherings and public meeting

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That it shall be unlawful for the owner proprietor or lessee of any hall place of amusement auditorium tent or room used for the entertainment of the public for public gatherings or public meetings to permit the holding of any entertainment public gathering or public meeting unless the flag of the United States shall be publicly displayed in such hall place of amusement auditorium tent or

It shall be unlawful for the person or persons directly or indirectly in charge of any entertainment public gathering or public meeting on any public street or highway or lot or tract of land in any city borough town or township to proceed with the holding of any such entertainment public gatherings or public meetings to permit the holding of United States reasonably clean and in good repair shall be publicly displayed at such entertainment gathering or meeting

The flag required to be displayed by the provisions of this act shall be the standard flag of the United States and shall be of a size not less than fifty-two by sixty-six inches

This section shall not apply to churches auditoriums or rooms used by congregations as places of religious worship

Section 2 Any person violating any of the provisions of this act shall upon conviction thereof in a summary proceeding before any alderman magistrate or justice of the peace of the proper city or county be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars for each such offense for the use of the Commonwealth

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—1.

Crum,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I again rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. FOWLER. House Bill No. 372, on first reading on today's calendar, a bill also that I have been interested in, I notice has been recommitted. It only goes to prove gentlemen, that there has been an unfair advantage taken of me in this House, and I request again that some member that voted on that bill make a motion to reconsider and place the bill on the calendar.

Mr. ALEXANDER. I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 372, on page 28, of today's calendar was recommitted be reconsidered.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, when House Bill No. 372 came up for consideration, I gave instructions to a page boy to get me a copy of this bill. You will notice it is not on the files. He went to all of the departments even over to the Senate transcribing room to get me a copy and he reported to me that there was no copy of the bill to be had. Amendments have been inserted in the bill. Now, you know, gentlemen, that if the manufacturers of this State wish to request any further amendments to that bill after it goes on third reading, it can only be done by unanimous consent, and because of the fact that no printed copy of this bill with the amendments was available I moved that it be recommitted to the Committee on Manufactures to permit the printer to print this bill in the form that it will be after being amended, so that the Committee could consider it. There is no one interested in the bill any more than are the manufacturers of the State. This bill provides for a rest of one day in seven; it provides that certain employes can work on the Sabbath, or on the seventh day, but that their names must be conspicuously posted and that the consent of the Department of Labor and Industry must be gotten. In addition to that I am advised that numerous other amendments have been recently inserted in the bill. I could not procure a copy of this bill with these recent amendments in it to show in what shape the bill is at the present time, and for that purpose I moved that this bill be recommitted and for that purpose alone. I gave these reasons to Mr. Fowler and I assured him that the committee would give him justice and fairness, but that they wanted an opportunity—

The SPEAKER. The Chair will state at this time he is about to make a ruling. This bill was committed to a committee by a vote of the House. The bill is now back in the committee and the Chair must necessarily therefore rule that the bill being back in committee, the only way that the bill can be brought out would be a motion to discharge the Committee. Under the rules of the House the committee would be entitled to a bill for a period of ten days. That time not having elapsed the bill could not be taken out of the committee within the period of ten days unless the rules of the House governing that particular question were suspended. The Chair makes that ruling and believes that that is the proper construction to be placed on that rule of the House.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, again I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, when I refused to accept Mr. Hess' proposition I must have thought as you did. What influence had he over the committee that he could assure me that it was going to come out. If he is so powerful over the committee that he can do that, then I know that trickery was played, if he is so powerful that he can assure me on the floor of this House that it will be reported back. He should have left the bill be printed when it came up on second reading and then he would be able to see the bill in its proper suit of clothes. I am at a disadvantage. Let me say to you that we will mark well in time to come the trickery that has been played on the floor of this House. This is not the first session; this is not the first time games of this kind have been played upon labor. In 1917 the same game was played on the compensation amendments when a certain individual in this House went to Philadelphia with the amendments in his pocket, and under the ruling of the Chair the bill was placed so far back on the calendar it never came to life, and that is the intent of putting this bill back to the Committee—to put it so far back that it will never come to life in this House. I have been patient, and the people that are behind this bill have been patient. Ministerial associations and various churches throughout this country and in this State have backed this bill; labor has backed this bill and we have been patient. We have heard others and want to be heard on the bill. We amended the bill to the satisfaction of all that have been heard upon it.

I say to you, perhaps I have no power to bring this bill before the House again and place it on the calendar, but I want to say to you that I have nothing but contempt for those who should take such a damnable advantage and place this bill back into the committee.

RULE OF THE HOUSE SUSPENDED.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, I move that under rule 43, rule 57 of the House be suspended for Thursday, April 7, 1921, for the purpose of reconsidering the vote by which this bill was recommitted to the Committee on Manufactures, after which the rule shall remain in force.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I am entirely willing that this rule should be suspended and am entirely willing that this issue should go squarely before the House for a vote on the motion as offered. I personally will support the motion and ask the members to support it.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, because I felt that the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Hess, desired to do the fair thing, is the reason I offered the motion. I felt sure that Mr. Hess, in his own fair way, would be entirely in accord with the motion.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to, and Rule 57 suspended.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 372, entitled:

An Act to promote the public health by providing for one day in seven for employes in certain employments was recommitted to the Committee on Manufactures, be reconsidered.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion,

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Fowler, is in error in the statement he made. He makes the statements under the stress of the occasion, and I feel sure that after he considers the matter calmly, that in a little while he will feel differently about it. The gentleman certainly realizes that I permitted the bill to pass first reading, putting the bill into the position where it could be amended, so that it would not be necessary to insert any amendments by unanimous consent. The bill is amended, and I have been told that there have been numerous amendments placed in the bill in the last few days. The bill was not available. I made every effort to secure a copy of the bill with the present amendments in it, so as to have knowledge of the bill before it reached second reading, but was unable to do so. I found that the bill had not yet been printed, and being unable to secure a copy of the bill with the present amendments in it, I made the motion that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Manufactures. The gentleman from Lackawanna said that the chairman of the Committee on Manufactures is so powerful. I said nothing to the gentleman from which he could infer that I felt that the chairman of the Committee on Manufactures was powerful. What I did say to him was that he could rely on the Committee on Manufactures giving him a fair hearing and giving him justice with reference to this bill. I made that statement to him after I had advised him that it was impossible to get an amended copy of the bill, that I didn't know the present condition of the bill, the present status of the bill, and I asked him to permit the matter to go over until Monday or Tuesday of next week, when the bill would be printed, and that then the committee would take it up promptly for consideration. There is no interest in the State more vitally interested in this bill than the manufacturing interests, and I will leave it to the judgment of the men of this House if they think I have asked too much.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, in seconding this motion, I do not agree with the remarks criticising the attitude or the methods of the gentleman from Lancaster, nor with any question as to the merits of the bill, but I think it is a question of broader import than the decision on this one bill, namely, that at this late day in the session it is dangerous to permit this practice of recommitment to committees. Moreover, it is dangerous to permit it on the motions of members who are not the sponsors of the bills. It seems to me that in fairness and equity to all members, such motions should be countenanced by the House, for recommitment to a committee, only when made by the sponsor or with his consent. As the Chair has just ruled within the last few minutes, a committee is permitted ten days for the consideration of a bill, and for a bill to remain for that length of time in a committee,—for ten days,—will make it almost impossible for the Legislature to pass such a bill at this session. It seems to me that the members of the House now realize the situation and should not permit a recommitment of any bill unless the motion is made by the sponsor of the bill. It seems to me in this particular case that it will be fair to the Committee on Manufactures and to the gentleman from Lancaster, if he would permit the passage of this bill on first reading, when it will appear on second reading next week, at which time, of course, the bill will be printed and ample opportunity given to him to offer further amendments.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I believe that I was right in my criticism, and I won't take it back. If the bill should have gone back, it ought to have gone back to the committee that first had the bill. Why did Mr. Hess think it should go back to his own committee? The Committee on Labor and Industry is familiar with the terms of that bill, and is just as much able to reconsider it as any other committee in the House. That committee went over it and heard all the exceptions to that bill and it should be recommitted to that committee at least out of respect to the Committee on Labor and Industry and to the sponsor of the bill.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the arguments offered with reference to this motion, it was because of the fact that it is a late date in the session that I assured the gentleman from Lackawanna Mr. Fowler, that consideration would be given this bill immediately upon its arrival from the printer, with the amendments printed in it. I assured him and take this opportunity to assure him again that the matter will be taken up by the committee immediately upon the bill being printed with the present amendments in it. Now, with reference to why this bill was recommitted to the Committee on Manufactures. I have received communications from the manufacturing interests all over the State with reference to this bill. I sent for a copy of the bill in order to determine what the present status of the bill was, and received the information that there were certain further amendments in the bill. I sent a page boy to get a copy of the bill, and he was gone for thirty minutes. When he came back he told me that he could not get a copy. I immediately looked for the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Fowler, in order to communicate to him my state of mind with reference to this bill, but he was out of the House and I could not locate him. It was after I could not locate him and after I failed to receive a copy of the bill in its present condition, with the amendments inserted, that I decided to make the motion to put it back into the Committee on Manufactures, so that that committee could get the bill in its present condition, and that I could give the information that was being asked of me relative to the bill. I assure the gentleman again, that if the bill is permitted to remain in that committee, immediately upon the receipt of the bill, with the present amendments printed in it, the Committee on Manufactures will give immediate consideration and take action.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER announced the "yeas" appeared to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for and eighty-five gentlemen having voted in the affirmative and twenty-one in the negative, the question was determined in the affirmative, the motion was agreed to, and the vote by which this bill was recommitted to the Committee on Manufactures was reconsidered.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1187, as follows:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the seventeenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws ten hundred and three) entitled "An act requiring licenses to sell steamship tickets or orders for transportation to or from foreign countries and providing penalties"

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one of an act approved the seventeenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws ten hundred and three) entitled "An act requiring licenses to sell steamship tickets or orders for transportation to or from foreign countries and providing penalties" which reads as follows

"Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That no person co-partnership association or corporation other than railroad or steamship companies shall hereafter engage within this State in the sale of steamship tickets or orders for transportation or shall advertise or hold themselves out as authorized or entitled to sell such steamship tickets or orders for transportation without being a citizen of the United States and having first procured from the Commissioner of Banking a license to carry on such business Such license shall be granted upon application to the Commissioner of Banking designating the place where the business for which a license is sought is to be carried on after such applicant shall cause a copy of his application to be advertised in one daily newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the applicant intends to do business and also in the legal journal of such county if any there is and if not then in the legal journal of the next adjacent county having such journal for thirty days

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 196, as follows:

An Act providing for an examination of the Mid-Valley Hospital at Blakely Borough Lackawanna County by the Board of Public Charities providing for a transfer of said hospital under certain conditions to the Commonwealth regulating such hospital in the event of such transfer and making an appropriation.

Whereas The Mid-Valley Hospital association of Blakely Borough Lackawanna County has erected and fully equipped a hospital and

Whereas Said association is desirous of transferring and conveying said hospital including all the buildings grounds and equipment appurtenant thereto unto the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to be thereafter maintained as a State hospital therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the Board of Public Charities shall investigate and examine the Mid-Valley Hospital at Blakely Borough Lackawanna County together with all buildings grounds and equipment thereof and the affairs and accounts of the association having charge of said hospital

Section 2 If said Board shall ascertain that the hospital has no outstanding indebtedness and that there are no liens of record against any of the properties of the hospital and all its buildings are in good condition and repair and that the hospital has ground adjacent and belonging thereto sufficient for the proper maintenance and conduct of such hospital then the Board is hereby authorized to accept the hospital including all the buildings grounds and equipment in the name of the Commonwealth

Section 3 After such acceptance the hospital shall be known as "The Mid-Valley State Hospital" The Governor with the consent of the Senate shall appoint nine (9) directors for terms of two (2) four (4) and six (6) years respectively and shall appoint every two years thereafter three directors to hold office for a full term of six (6) years The management and control of the hospital shall be in the hands of the directors in accordance with the laws of the Commonwealth in the same manner and to the same extent as in the care of other state hospitals

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 952, entitled:

An Act making a deficiency appropriation to the Department of Labor and Industry for the payment of the salaries of a supervising inspector

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Bolard, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BOLARD. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Crawford to explain to the House the purpose and necessity for this bill.

Mr. BOLARD. Mr. Speaker, the object of this bill is to appropriate $3,899.52 to the Department of Labor and Industry for the payment of the salary of a supervising inspector employed at an annual salary of a little over $3,000. I have been consistently against salary raisers, and this is not a salary raiser. Some time ago the inspector in charge of the northwestern district was engaged as supervisor of the department. I have taken this up with the department and with the Attorney General. This is a bill that provides an appropriation to take care of what has already been actually done.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Was the appointment of this superintendent authorized by act of Assembly and with proper authority?

Mr. BOLARD. Mr. Speaker, as we understood it, this appointment was approved by the Attorney General's office, who advised that the appointment was properly made.

On the question, recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 640, as follows:

An Act authorizing the appointment of interpreters by the several courts in counties of the first and second class and providing for their compensation

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the courts of common pleas of each county of the first class are authorized to appoint such number of interpreters and in such languages as the courts deem necessary for the proper transaction of their business Such interpreters shall act in the courts of common pleas and in the courts of quarter sessions Interpreters so appointed may be removed by the courts appointing them at any time The annual salary of each of the interpreters so appointed shall be three thousand five hundred dollars to be paid out of the county treasury Before assuming the duties of the office each interpreter shall take and subscribe the oath prescribed by the Constitution of this Commonwealth

Section 2 The act approved the seventh day of July one thousand nine hundred nineteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred twenty-five) entitled "An act authorizing the appointment of interpreters in each county of this Commonwealth and providing for their compensation" is hereby repealed in so far as it relates to counties of the first class

All other acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BALDI. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend title, by striking out the words "several courts in counties of the first and second class" and insert in lieu thereof "courts of common pleas in counties of the first class."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 358, as follows:

An Act providing for and regulating the taking and appropriation of land and property by incorporated cemetery and burial associations not for profit for the purpose of enlarging cemeteries and burial grounds

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That it shall be lawful for any incorporated cemetery or burial association not for profit to acquire land for the purpose of enlarging any cemetery or burial ground of such association and for such purpose such cemetery or burial association is authorized to enter upon and to appropriate by right of eminent domain any private land or property adjacent to such cemetery or burial ground

No cemetery or burial association shall exercise the right of eminent domain as against any land or property situate within any borough nor as against any land occupied by and used as a dwelling house nor against any land underlaid with coal nor shall any public highway be vacated in the exercise of the right of eminent domain herein conferred

Section 2 In all cases where the parties cannot agree upon the amount of damages to be paid for such taking or where by reason of the absence or legal incapacity of the owner no such agreement can be made the cemetery or burial association may tender a bond with sufficient security to the party entitled to damages or to the agent or attorney of any person absent or to the agent or officer of a corporation or to the guardian of committee of any one under legal incapacity

The condition of the bond shall be that the cemetery or burial association shall pay or cause to be paid such amount of damages as the party shall be entitled to receive after the same shall have been agreed upon by the parties in the manner provided for in this act In case the party claiming damages refuses to accept the security tendered the cemetery or burial association shall give the party or his agent attorney guardian or committee a notice of the time when such bond will be presented in court

When approved by court as to the amount thereof and as to the character of the security the bond shall be filed in court for the benefit of those interested and recovery may be had thereon for the amount of damages assessed Upon the approval of the bond the cemetery or burial association shall have a right to enter upon and take possession of such land or property

Section 3 In case the compensation for damages accruing from such taking and appropriation have not been agreed upon the court of common pleas of the proper county or any law judge thereof in vacation on application thereto by petition of the cemetery or burial associations or any party interested shall appoint three members of the board of viewers as a board of view and appoint a time not less than twenty nor more than thirty days thereafter when the viewers shall meet upon the land and property and view the same

The viewers shall be appointed after the acceptance or filing of the bond provided for in section two The views shall give at least ten days' notice of their first meeting in such manner as the court shall direct

Section 4 The viewers having been sworn or affirmed faithfully justly and impartially to decide and a true report to make concerning all matters to be submitted to them and in relation to which they are authorized to inquire and having viewed the land and property shall hear all parties interested and their witnesses and shall determine the damages for the land and property taken and appropriated

The viewers shall make report to court showing the damages assessed for such taking and appropriation and shall file therewith a plan showing the land and property taken and appropriated

Section 5 When the report is filed notice thereof shall immediately be given in such manner as the court shall direct to all parties interested Such notice shall state the date of the filing of the report and shall state that unless exceptions thereto are filed within thirty days or an appeal therefrom within said time is taken the report will be confirmed

Section 6 When the report is filed the prothonotary shall mark the same "confirmed nisi" In case no exceptions thereto are filed or no appeal is taken therefrom he shall enter a decree confirming the report absolutely

Section 7 Within thirty days after the filing of any report any party interested may file exceptions to the same and the court shall confirm modify or change such report or the amount of damages made therein or refer the report back to the same or new viewers

Section 8 Within thirty days after any report of viewers is filed in court any party interested may appeal to the court of common pleas of the proper county and demand a jury trial such appeal shall state the grounds upon which it is taken and shall be signed by the appellant or by his agent or attorney and shall be accompanied by an affidavit that it is not taken for the purpose of delay but because the appellant believes that an injustice has been done

Upon the trial of any such appeal in case the party appellant does not obtain a verdict more favorable than was the report of the viewers the appellant shall not recover any costs

The court of common pleas shall order what costs shall be given in connection with any such appeal and may by rule or otherwise prescribe the form of pleadings

Section 9 Within six months after the confirmation of any report by the court of common pleas or after verdict and final judgment in a jury trial either party may appeal to the Superior or Supreme Court

Section 10 All assessments for damages shall bear interest at the expiration of thirty days after they shall have been finally ascertained

Section 11 All expenses of the said proceedings shall be paid by the cemetery or burial association

Section 12 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

Ordered that the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 688, entitled:

An Act regulating nominations and elections for all elective offices of cities of the second class and repealing certain acts

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I want to call to the attention of the Senate that this repealer of the Non-Partisan Bill affects the City of Pittsburgh, on which a hearing was had before the Committee on Elections last week. There were a lot of associations here represented, and I noticed by to-day's Dispatch of Pittsburgh that in an interview by Mr. Strayer the Senior Senator from Pennsylvania was particularly opposed to the repealing of the Non-Partisan Bill. I am directing the attention of the Senate to this bill because I believe that the matter involved should be referred back to the people.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I would also call to the attention of the Senate that this bill provides for the repeal of the Non-Partisan Bill in Scranton as well as Pittsburgh. The people of Scranton are almost unanimous for the repealing of this law and I am sure that the Senate will feel that way here to-night. The bill is confusing when you have a Non-Partisan ballot on a partisan ballot. It is confusing to the voter, and we believe that by repealing this bill we will have better government, and I would ask that the Senators vote for this bill.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 694, as follows:

An Act authorizing and empowering county commissioners with the approval of the court of quarter sessions to enter a bridge on record as a county bridge by resolution without the recommendation of viewers and the approval of a grand jury and making it the duty of county commissioners to build such bridges at the expense of the county or counties in or between which they may be located and also making it the duty of county commissioners to erect and construct a new and sufficient bridge to take the place of any county or inter-county bridge which has been or which shall hereafter be totally or partially destroyed by some sudden casualty and authorizing county commissioners with the approval of the court of quarter sessions to erect a new and sufficient bridge to take the place of any existing county or inter-county bridge which has become or which hereafter becomes insufficient for any cause to accommodate the public travel at the expense of the county or counties in or between which such bridge may be located without the recommendation of viewers and the approval of the court of quarter sessions and of the grand jury

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the term "municipal division" as used in this act includes and means townships boroughs and cities

Section 2 Whenever it may be necessary to erect a bridge over a river creek rivulet railway or street railway which crosses a public road street or highway in any county of this Commonwealth the county commissioners of the county in which said bridge may be located or of the counties between which it may be located may with the approval of the court of quarter sessions by resolution duly adopted and spread on their minutes enter such bridge of record as a county bridge without having to secure the recommendation of viewers and the approval of a grand jury whenever in their judgment the cost of erecting such bridge would be a greater expense than it would be reasonable that the municipal division or divisions in or between which such bridge may be located should bear

Section 3 Whenever the county commissioners of any county or counties have entered a bridge on record as a county bridge as provided in section two of this act it shall be the duty of the county commissioners of such county or counties to build such bridge at the expense of the county in which it may be located or when located on the line between two or more counties at the joint expense of said counties

Section 4 Whenever a county bridge in any county of this Commonwealth or an inter-county bridge between two or more counties of this Commonwealth has been or shall hereafter be totally or partially destroyed by some sudden casualty of whatsoever nature or character it shall be the duty of the county commissioners of the county or counties in or between which such bridge may be located with the approval of the court of quarter sessions to erect a new and sufficient bridge to take the place of the one so totally or partially destroyed at the expense of the county in which it may be located or when located on a line between two or more counties at the joint expense of said counties without first securing the recommendation of viewers and the approval of a grand jury

Section 5 Whenever it shall appear to the county commissioners of any county in this Commonwealth that any county bridge heretofore or hereafter to be erected or constructed is not sufficient for any cause to accommodate the public travel or whenever it shall appear to the county commissioners of any two or more adjoining counties that any inter-county bridge heretofore or hereafter to be erected or constructed is not sufficient for any cause to accommodate public travel it shall be lawful for the commissioners of said county or counties as the case may with the approval of the court of quarter sessions be to erect and construct at the expense of their respective counties a new and sufficient bridge to take the place of the then existing bridge without first securing the consent of viewers and the approval of a grand jury

Section 6 For the purposes of carrying the provisions of this act into effect the county commissioners of the respective counties of this Commonwealth are hereby authorized to borrow any sum of money not exceeding the constitutional limitations if necessary for the purposes aforesaid at a rate of interest not exceeding the legal rate of interest authorized by law and to issue bonds therefor

Section 7 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. MacDADE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend section 5, page 4, line 3, by inserting after the word "may" the word "be;" also line 4, by striking out the word "be."

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. President, there seems to be some little misunderstanding about this bill. This bill, as many of you recognize, is what is known as the Wells Bear Bill, and for fear that the members of the Senate may be under some misapprehension on account of some propaganda, and the attention of the Senators having been called to the bill by those who are opposed to this bill, I want to say to the members of the Senate that two years ago I presented a bill which provided a general repeal, or an open season rather, for counties where there would be two hundred of such petitioners as were engaged in agriculture, in dairying or in the raising of bees in the producing of honey. This bill, when it was presented to the Senate some members of the Game Commission came to me and proposed that instead of a general repealer we make it possible for counties where they were being overrun by bear that two hundred signers could come in and the Commission might declare an open season for such counties as our county and one or two others, and I, of course, wanted to be strictly in accord with the Commission, and agreed to this substitution, and on the books to-day the statute provides that where two hundred men that are engaged in agriculture, stock raising or bee culture present a petition to the Game Commission, they may declare an open season. We presented, after this bill was passed two years ago, a petition to the Game Commission of Pennsylvania, properly signed by men engaged in agriculture, dairying and bee culture, and the Commission did not see fit to give us any relief. This bill merely provides that instead of the Commission having the discretion as to whether they shall grant the petition or not that if we present the bona fide signers they must grant such permission. Now our situation is simply this, and I believe that I am in full accord with those sportsmen who believe in protecting the game of our state as much as any Senator here, but I am a little bit more interested in the agricultural pursuits of my county and my district in the raising of bees and sheep, perhaps, than I am in the protection of the bear. Again, gentlemen of the Senate, I believe, and I want to be qualified in this part of my remarks, the Commission themselves did not make the arrangement for this change two years ago, but the Secretary and his Assistant Secretary, I believe that it does not hurt men to live up to their agreements. I have always been taught to believe that, and our object in this bill, in asking for this relief, is to put it in such shape that they must give relief when it is asked for, and under the circumstances which they agreed to two years ago, I might say to this Senate that the Game Commission made investigation when we presented our petition two years ago, and from one of your game protectors they found that in the southern part of the county where our people are interested in, that in a very comparatively short time between four and five hundred sheep had been killed. Now I want to see our part of Pennsylvania where the big game preserves are, I am glad to say, the Black Forest—the paradise of the sportsmen of the State of Pennsylvania and other states; but I do not want to see it at the sacrifice of our agriculture, sheep raising or bee culture business, and I do not believe any other Senator does. Some gentlemen might say that advantage will be taken of this petition by other counties. I want to say to you I do not believe that any bona fide farmer or sheep raiser, or man that is engaged in bee culture, is going to sign a petition in our county where there is no need for protection. I do not believe they are going to do it, and I do not believe that in our county when this permission is granted, it only extends over a period of two years, or any other county in the State when they ask for this relief and get it that want to continue to present a petition if they do not need the relief that this bill affords. I believe that this is proper legislation and that our State is much more interested in the agricultural pursuits of its people than they are in the protection of the bear. Some of you gentlemen may have seen the three cubs that were brought down by one of the game protectors last week from our county, very beautiful little animals and worth looking over. I think they are on exhibition in one of the hardware stores at this time. The mother of these cubs came up to one of the farmer's homes practically and was stealing away his bee hives when he shot the mother bear and then they followed it up and brought these cubs here. I think that the relief asked for in Mr. Well's bill is very proper and ought to be granted by the Senate.

Shall the bill pass finally?

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, April 11, 1921.

The House met at 9 o'clock P. M.

The SPEAKER (Robert S. Spangler), in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. W. H. Feldmann, offered the following prayer:

O Lord God Almighty, we stand in Thy presence and we would gladly ascribe unto Thee all glory and praise and honor, for Thou hast dealt with us bountifully and unto our land Thou hast come with only thoughts of love and mercy. Our lines have fallen unto us in a pleasant place and endowed us with a goodly heritage.

Grant unto us that our great boon of civil liberty may yet remain with us for ages to come, and may nothing that men or devils can do ever break down its force and its power in our midst. Help us to remember, however, that liberty has always coupled with it responsibility, and may each one feel that unto him come the task to defend the God-given blessing.

And so we pray Thee that Thou wilt make of each and every man a true American, loyal unto the law, willing to serve at any task that shall be assigned and ready to lay down his life, if necessary, for the Stars and Stripes. God bless them, and may they wave forever. Amen.

RESOLUTION.

REQUESTING CERTAIN INFORMATION FROM HON. SAMUEL S. LEWIS.

Mr. STRAUSS offered a resolution which was trice read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 11, 1921.

"Whereas, Samuel S. Lewis, Auditor General-elect of Pennsylvania, and at present identified with the Auditor General's office in a recent address before certain members of this House declared that funds of the Commonwealth had been used to pay expense accounts when in his opinion said expense accounts could not be lawfully paid, and that after he became Auditor General he proposed to proceed to consul-

the Attorney General, and if his opinion was sustained by the Attorney General he proposed to proceed to recover back into the treasury the money expended on these expense accounts; and

"Whereas, In the same address he declared that persons were drawing pay without authority of law, and that others were drawing more pay than the law authorized;

"Therefore, Be it resolved by the House of Representatives that the said Samuel S. Lewis be requested to immediately furnish to this House detailed data and information showing the persons to whom the expense accounts referred to by him were paid, the amounts and the items and the character of items therein, the legality of which he questions, and his reason for so doing, together with detailed information and data, together with the names of the employes and the amount to them paid, either without legal authority or in excess of the compensation authorized by law to be paid them, together with such other information as may be available to him and within his knowledge, showing a violation or a disregard of the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by any department of the Government."

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this resolution be referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that this resolution contains matters of sufficient importance to be given a hearing here on the floor. I do not believe there has been any dishonesty, but if there was I would like—

The SPEAKER. The resolution will lie over for printing.

RESOLUTION CONGRATULATING S. EDWARD MOORE UPON HIS MARRIAGE.

Mr. DAVID I. MILLER presented the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and adopted.

In the House of Representatives, April 11, 1921.

Whereas, The History of House Bills has been a great convenience to the Members of this Assembly; and

Whereas, The compiler of the House History, after a long and strenuous battle, has brought home to himself "The Bacon" and has entered into the making of History for the House of Moore;

Therefore, Be it resolved that the congratulations and well wishes of this House be extended to S. Edward Moore and his better half.

RESOLUTION CONGRATULATING S. EDWARD MOORE UPON HIS MARRIAGE.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER presented the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, April 11, 1921.

Whereas, As it has oft been said that "he who fights and runs away, lives to fight another day;" and,

Whereas, As one in our midst, harkening to these words of wisdom, has fled from this jurisdiction and taken unto himself a wife, and

Whereas, He has brought his captive back to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania;

Therefore Be it hoped, That in the future, as in the past, S. Edward Moore, Historian of the House of Representatives, will be able to meet with the same smiling countenance all bills, whether contracted at home or abroad, in the same kind spirit with which he has met all the bills which the Members of the House of Representatives have imposed upon him, and,

Be it Further Resolved, That congratulations and good wishes of the entire membership of this House of Representatives be extended to Mr. and Mrs. S. Edward Moore.

RESOLUTION REQUESTING INFORMATION FROM THE BUREAU OF MEDICAL EDUCATION AND LICENSURES.

Mr. DUNN presented the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, April 11, 1921.

Resolved, That the President of the Bureau of Medical Education and Licensures be and is hereby instructed to furnish within five days after the passage of this resolution the following information for the use of the Members of this House. And be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House be instructed to forward these resolutions to the president of the Bureau of Medical Education and Licensures.

1st How many arrests have been made by the bureau of persons practicing medicine without a license, or practicing illegally, in the Commonwealth from January 1, 1915, to date.

2nd What cult was each practicing when arrested.

3rd How was the evidence obtained, by a doctor holding a license to practice medicine, or by regular licensed detectives, or by both.

4th Give the names of each person arrested, the names of the doctor or detectives who secured the evidence for the arrest, the county court in which the trial was held.

5th How many convictions, how many acquitals, give the names and the court.

6th What was the cost on each prosecution to the Commonwealth?

7th What was the cost to the Commonwealth in the injunctions proceedings instituted by the optometrists, and the cost to the Commonwealth in the appeal from the opinion of Judge Audenreid to the Supreme Court in 1915.

RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE FEDERAL DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE TO INVESTIGATE NEGRO PEONAGE.

Mr. STEVENS offered the following resolution, which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, April 11, 1921.

Whereas, The condition of the negroes in the southern states in a great many cases amounts virtually to slavery, and

Whereas, Frequent outrages are perpetrated by the white people of those states against negroes in order to prevent the giving of testimony in proceedings under the peonage laws of the United States, therefore

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby urges upon the Federal Department of Justice the necessity of instituting a rigorous and exhaustive investigation of peonage in all of the southern states, and the bringing to justice and punishment of all persons guilty of practicing peonage.

The Secretary of the Commonwealth is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to the Department of Justice of the United States.

MOTION TO PLACE BILL ON CALENDAR.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 293, File Folio No. 4371, entitled:

An Act to amend article three sections three hundred and five and three hundred and six and the first paragraph of subsection seven of section three hundred and seven of an act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen and amended and again approved on the twenty-sixth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen entitled "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder be placed on the calendar notwithstanding the negative recommendation of the Committee on Insurance.

Mr. KOHLER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this bill is known as the compensation amendment. It was introduced on February second and was referred to the Committee on Insurance, which later appointed a time for a hearing before a sub-committee. I met the sub-committee as sponsor of the bill, and after some objections to the amendments had been pointed out in the hearing I then took the matter up with the sub-committee appointed by the general committee on insurance. The main objection to the bill at that time was the clause which referred to the casualty companies. I am content to have that clause remain in the bill as it is in the act now. We also were satisfied to make other amendments to the act by eliminating all its objectionable features, and we even surrendered the three-day clause and were satisfied to make it seven days waiting-period instead of three as the bill called for. I feel that the laboring men of this State were very fair at this time in simply asking for a few amendments to the compensation act. We felt that we were entitled to a consideration in the State of Pennsylvania as well as in the other states. The other states have waiting-periods ranging anywhere from three to seven days, and Pennsylvania we feel ought to have a waiting-period of over seven days. Now, my offer to the members of the House stands just as it did before that time. The labor people of this State are just as willing now to offer amendments to the act as they were before that time. We had felt that after taking it up with the special committee they would recommend to the general committee a favorable report on this bill. However, the committee did not report upon the bill and we recommended a bill, and they reported it with a negative recommendation. Many members of this House have been approached by the various labor organizations. They have come to me during this session and have asked me to notify them when labor was vitally interested in any measure in this House. I ask you tonight, you men that are in favor of labor, to stand here with your votes tonight and place this bill upon the calendar, and we will amend the bill, as I have said, when it comes to second reading. I hope you will give us a chance to place this bill upon the calendar.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this bill was referred to the Committee on Insurance and by it referred to a sub-committee. The bill was given careful consideration. The bill was given a hearing, the bill was given courteous treatment, and that committee reported the bill with a negative recommendation. This bill increases compensation from sixty to seventy per cent, increases the doctor's fee from one hundred dollars to two hundred dollars, and reduces the waiting-period to three days. The committee in their wisdom thought at this time, when business is struggling for its very existence, that additional burden should not be heaped upon it. We all know that if we are going to consume the time of the House by putting bills back on the calendar that have been reported with a negative recommendation very meritorious legislation is likely to fail of passage, and it is my opinion that we ought not put this bill back at this time.

Mr. GOODNOUGH. Mr. Speaker, on behalf of the Insurance Committee, and in reply to the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Fowler, I have to say that this bill was introduced early in February by Mr. Fowler. Shortly after that he came to me with a proposition that a hearing be had on the bill. That courtesy was very promptly and very carefully given him. I further said to him that we would have the hearing at a time that would best suit his convenience, and he fixed the day when the hearing was to be held. At that hearing, which was very largely attended, the committee listened most patiently to the arguments made in favor of the bill, and we gave light consideration to the arguments that were made against it. After the hearing the bill was referred to a sub-committee for further investigation, and in due time that committee reported back to the full committee the bill, with the recommendation. I am aware, of course, that it is not considered good taste to reveal what transpired in the committee room, but since this bill is now before you with a negative recommendation, it follows, of course, you know a motion to that effect was made in the committee, and upon that motion—while I can't say that every member of the committee present voted for it, I can say and I do say that there were no votes against the motion to report the bill with a negative recommendation. So that the bill comes before you with the unanimous recommendation of the Insurance Committee, and if you feel that the sponsor of the bill has had the usual and customary courtesy, if you feel that the committee has used the ordinary diligence in investigating the merits or demerits of the bill, it seems to me you ought to defeat this motion and support the committee.

On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the motion?
It was not agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. HAWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. HAWS. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, on last Thursday, the day known as All-American Day, there was passed in this House Bill No. 1682 which, as you members know who followed the bill, was a bill to compel the display of the American flag at all public meetings. I have the honor, as sponsor of that bill, to present to you, Mr. Speaker and members of this House, one of these beautiful American flags, on behalf of the Independent Order of Americans.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. BROOKS. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1395, (Senate Bill No. 93), file folio 1735, entitled:

An Act relating to insurance amending revising and consolidating the law providing for the incorporation of insurance companies and the regulation supervision and protection of home and foreign insurance companies Lloyd's associations reciprocal and inter-insurance exchanges and fire insurance rating bureaus and the regulation and supervision of insurance carried by such companies associations and exchanges including insurance carried by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund providing penalties and repealing existing laws on page 32 of today's calendar, be recommitted to the Committee on Insurance for the purposes of a hearing and amendment.

Mr. BRENNEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from York.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York, Mr. Brooks, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BROOKS. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from York whether he was present at the several hearings held on this bill in the Senate chamber?

Mr. BROOKS. Mr. Speaker, I was not.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman whether any request had been made by the Insurance Commissioner for a further hearing?

Mr. BROOKS. Not from the Insurance Commissioner.

Mr. GOLDER. From whom did they come?

Mr. BROOKS. From some insurance companies.

Mr. GOLDER. Were these insurance companies represented or present at the public hearings?

Mr. BROOKS. I cannot tell you.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will inform the gentleman from Philadelphia that a number of people representing mutual companies called at the Speaker's office this afternoon and there stated there were a great many features in the bill that were not clear to those companies. From what the Chair understands, there has been no hearing on this bill in the House. This is not for the purpose of compromising the bill but for the purpose of elucidating it to the several mutual companies. That is why this recommitment is asked.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, you may recall that there were on several days joint meetings of the Senate and House committees on the bill now up for consideration. This bill is the result of study on behalf of a commission which has spent at least two, and probably four years, in its preparation. We are now approaching the last days of the session. The Insurance Commissioner and committee presented this bill months ago and there is not an individual or insurance company that has not had time to study this bill very, very carefully. There is hardly any branch of insurance in the State that was not represented at the public hearings in the Senate. The Insurance Commissioner of the State was there to answer any questions. The committee was there to answer any questions, and it seems to me an unfair proposition at this time, and a reflection upon the work of the commission that prepared this bill and upon the Insurance Commissioner and the Insurance Committees of the Senate and House, to pass this motion at this time. I trust that this motion will be defeated.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that we have reached the period in this House when we want to throttle a great many things. I cannot conceive of individuals in this House refusing insurance companies, when they have asked to be heard on a measure. I grant the gentlemen from Philadelphia that they were heard in the halls of the Senate. They come here before this House, and they have asked a member of this House to have this bill recommitted for the purpose of being heard again. If there is anything in this bill that is contrary to the wishes of the people of this Commonwealth and to the members of this House, it seems to me it is nothing more than fair that we should grant this request. I believe the members of this House will grant such a request when it is properly made to the House, and the request has been properly made to-night. I trust that you will all support that request.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House. There is no member of this House who has a higher regard for the Insurance Commissioner of this State than I have, and there is no member of this House who has more confidence in his fair motives, but I too have given an ear to protest to certain provisions of this bill. There seem to be a number of sections in this code that if enacted into law will work extreme hardship on the smaller fire companies in the State. These fire companies, as I understand it, have not had an opportunity to be heard. It may have been on account of their lack of action or for some other reasons, but it does seem to me, gentlemen of the House, that all fairness ought to be extended to the smaller fire companies of this State as well as all other insurance interests, and I hope, gentlemen of the House, that this motion will have your support.

The question recurs on the motion,

Shall the bill be recommitted to the Committee on Insurance for the purpose of a hearing?

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, before I vote on this measure I desire to state that as a member of the Insurance Committee of the House I have followed this particular bill as well as other legislation before that committee with some considerable attention. I have taken care to examine the various provisions of the bill and am familiar with the hearings that were held before our committee as well as those of the Senate committee on this bill, and I have heard it before the Senate in which the objectors were given a fair hearing and every effort was made to meet every reasonable objection which was offered at that time. It was my understanding that the gentlemen who there represented the mutual companies were satisfied that their objections had been fairly met by amendments. Now, then, following that, when the bill was before the Senate, and since, I have received many telegrams from my constituents objecting to the provisions of this bill. Upon my return home I went to those gentlemen who had wired me and asked them what their objections were to the bill and not in one instance could they give me any other answer but that they had received a request from the mutual insurance company interests asking their policyholders to oppose the bill, and they were asked to help to defeat this measure.

Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I want to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, do you have in mind the mutual companies of the State or the small stock companies?

Mr. STERLING. I speak of the small stock companies who are operating within the State.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, have you reference to some specific recommendation?

Mr. STERLING. I read from Section 337, page 52, of the bill, "Any domestic stock or mutual company heretofore or hereafter incorporated as a fire, marine or fire and marine or casualty insurance company may amend its charter in accordance with the provisions of Section 322." The bill asks for the enactment of a law which will not permit rich and well endowed companies to operate in the State of Pennsylvania to the detriment of the smaller companies, and the object is to protect these smaller companies before it permits the rich companies to come into the State with millions of surplus.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, this is one of the principal purposes that we have in mind, to protect our smaller home insurance companies against the large and rich companies, and this is a codification of our present insurance laws and additional power is given to our Commissioner of Insurance, and that is all this bill means. I think that rather than thrash this matter out here now before the House we will be willing to agree that the bill shall go back to the Committee and that we have these objections fought out there, because I am satisfied and I think the members of the House are satisfied that this measure can be shaped into a good bill in the interest of our own home insurance interests as well as for the insured. It is a very good bill for the mutual companies.

Mr. GOODNOUGH. Mr. Speaker, along the line of the remarks made by the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Flynn, I am in favor of seeing the bill sent back to the committee.

Mr. BROOKS. Mr. Speaker, I had a talk with the Chairman of the Committee here, and unfortunately a number of us country people must vote against the bill if we want to please our constituents in the insurance business, because our constituents at the present time would like to have it eliminated. We will do as the gentleman has suggested, whip the bill in line so that we can vote for it. I believe we can talk things over and have that changed and make it possible to do so.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from York.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York, Mr. Brooks, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BROOKS. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I will ask the gentleman, will he agree to prepare and present an amendment to the insurance committee on this bill?

Mr. BROOKS. I will notify the Insurance Companies to appear at the hearing.

Mr. FLYNN. Will the gentleman be responsible to send this bill back and will he be willing to assume the responsibility before the objectors to this bill?

Mr. BROOKS. Yes, sir.

Mr. FLYNN. Are you willing to specify that you will accept that and that you will make a statement to that effect to this House?

Mr. BROOKS. So far as I can, yes, sir.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, because I have absolute faith in the good faith of my friend from York, Mr. Brooks, I desire to withdraw my objections to the motion.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The bill is recommitted to the Committee on Insurance for a hearing.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1205, File Folio 3733, on page 14 of today's calendar, entitled:

An Act to amend section two of an act entitled "An act to regulate the doing of business in this Commonwealth by foreign corporations; the registration thereof and service of process thereon; and providing punishment and penalties for the violation of its provisions; and repealing previous legislation on the subject" approved the eighth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, requiring the payment of registration fees and a bonus on capital stock, and prohibiting registration where the corporate title is the same or similar to that of a registered foreign corporation or that of a Pennsylvania corporation.

be recommitted to the Committee on Corporations for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

APPROVAL OF RESOLUTION.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 7, 1921.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed the following resolution of the Senate and House of Representatives recalling from the Governor House Bill No. 199, File Folio 2041, entitled:

"Resolved (if the Senate concur), That House Bill No. 199, File Folio 2041, entitled 'An act to amend section one of an act approved the fourteenth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws, nine hundred seventy-three) ,entitled "An act to provide for retirement of State employes prmanently disqualified by reason of physical or mental disability to perform their official functions and duties with half-pay, under certain conditions, during the remainder of their lives, except State employes whose retirement has been or shall be otherwise provided for, and the filling of vacancies caused by such retirement," as amended by changing the conditions under which said employes can be retired and the procedure therein changing the pension period and defining the legislative and executive branches of the State government and term "State employe" to include officers and employes in the of State institutions," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment."

Accordingly, the original bill is herewith returned.

WM. C. SPROUL.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed finally be reconsidered.

Mr. HEFFERNAN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill was agreed to on third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. HEFFERNAN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 1, page 4, line 13, by inserting after the word "life" the following: "or during continuance of such disability or incapacity."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 604.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, Pa., April 7, 1921.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 604, entitled "An act to exempt from taxation real and personal property owned, occupied and used by any branch, post or camp of the Grand Army of the Republic, the Spanish-American War Veterans, the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, or the Military Order of the Loyal Legion of the United States."

The valued and patriotic services of the members of these organizations make them worthy of such assistance as may be given by the State Government without violation of constitutional provisions or sound public policy. Unfortunately, however, this Bill is clearly unconstitutional.

It is special legislation in violation of Article III, Section 7, of the Constitution. It is likewise in violaton of Article IX, Sections 1 and 2. Under these sections, the power of the Legislature to grant exemptions from taxation is strictly limited to public property used for public purposes, actual places of religious worship, places of burial not used or held for private or corporate profit, and institutions of purely public charity. The organizations whose property would be exempt under this Bill do not fall within the enumerated classes. All laws exempting property from taxation other than the property thus enumerated are void.

For these reasons the Bill is not approved.

WM. C. SPROUL.

On the question,

Shall the bill become a law the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. GOODNOUGH. Mr. Speaker, I move that the bill together with the veto lie upon the table.

Mr. COOK. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

NAYS—2.

Williams, Wood,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE.

Mr. ALBERT MILLAR. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1151 (Senate Bill No. 458), file folio 1707, entitled:

An Act to amend section eleven and section thirteen of an act approved the fifteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred fifteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred thirty-four) entitled "An act relating to motion-picture films reels or stereopticon views or slides providing a system of examination approval and regulation thereof and of the banners posters and other like advertising matter used in connection therewith creating the Board of Censors and providing penalties for the violation of this act" was defeated on final passage be reconsidered.

Mr. BAKER. I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the "noes" appeared to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called and fifty-six gentlemen having voted in the affirmative and sixty-three gentlemen having voted in the negative the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up from page 6 of to-day's calender, bills on final passage postponed, House Bill No. 1242 (Senate Bill No. 667).

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Glass.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1242 (Senate Bill No. 667), entitled:

An Act to amend section fourteen of an act approved the twenty-first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws one thousand seventy-seven) entitled "An act to provide for the administration of the Workmen's Compensation Act of one thousand nine hundred fifteen by creating the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation of the Department of Labor and Industry, providing for the establishment of the Workmen's Compensation Board to have charge of such bureaus, authorizing the division of the Commonwealth into workmen's compensation districts and the appointment of workmen's compensation referees, defining the powers and duties of the Commissioner of Labor and Industry, the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation, the Workmen's Compensation Board, the workmen's compensation referees and the factory inspectors of the Department of Labor and Industry in enforcing the said act and fixing the salaries of the members of the Workmen's Compensation Board, the workmen's compensation referees and certain of their employes and assistants and repealing certain acts."

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, when this bill was up for consideration last week, one of the gentlemen rose in his seat and asked whether there was any member in the House who could explain the provisions of this bill, and I arose and said that I would be glad to explain the bill if the bill would be placed on the postponed calender. I therefore feel that it is my duty to explain what this bill is. This bill increases the salary of the workmen's compensation board from seventy-five hundred dollars to nine thousand dollars, and the other members from seven thousand dollars to eighty-five hundred dollars, and the director's salary is increased from four thousand dollars to five thousand dollars, making an aggregate increase of fifty-five hundred dollars, forty-five hundred dollars for the three members of the board and a thousand dollars increase for the director. I may say to you, gentlemen of the House, that this bill was introduced at the direction of the Governor of the Commonwealth. It has been felt, in view of the fact that the board had been doing such remarkable work during the short time they have been working, that an increase in salary would be justified.

I have some figures here, Mr. Speaker, which will indicate the kind of work that this board has been doing. I have in my hand a report from January 1, 1916, to March 31, 1921, inclusive; the reports of accidents of two or more days' duration, 1,032,830, of which there were 14,765 fatal cases. Of this number, 3,026 were permanent disability, and 1,015,239 temporary; number of agreements approved by the board, fatal cases, 11,376; permanent disability, 5,633; temporary disability, 321,557, or a total of 338,566. The amount awarded in compensation was, fatal compensation, $28,769,078; permanent disability award, $8,448,782; total amount awarded in compensation, $37,217,860. The amount already paid in five and one-quarter years to the injured or survivors in fatal cases, $7,511,970; disability cases, $18,603,519, or a total of $26,515,489. The payments awarded in permanent injury cases aggregated $8,448,782. Of this $4,665,768 has already been paid. Mr. Speaker, I cited these figures just to show the work that the Workmen's Compensation Board has been doing during its existence. Now, the board whose salary is raised under this bill has passed upon a total of 6,857 cases during the time it has been operating. Of this number only 526 have been appealed from and gone into the courts. The number handled by agreement and awards is 320,436 cases, up to the first of the year.

Mr. Speaker, while we believe in economy, I do not believe we should believe in false economy. I think this is a board that has done meritorious work, and I think they are entitled to the small increase asked. As I said before, this bill was drawn at the direction of the Governor. Two years ago it was thought proper to increase their salaries, but for some reason or other the bill was not presented and so it was presented at this session. In justice to the board it was thought necessary that the salaries should be increased. I therefore ask the members of this House to vote for this bill.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Glass, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GLASS. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia if the proposed increase in salary for the Compensation Board comes out of the revenues of the office?

Mr. GLASS. Revenues of the office? This is a State office, Mr. Phillips.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman, and ask him if the increase would come out of the profits of the office.

Mr. GLASS. There are no profits in this office, it is a quasi-judicial office.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Is it not true that there are a number of clerks working in this Compensation Board office for fifty or sixty dollars a month?

Mr. GLASS. I cannot answer that question, because all I am concerned with is the bill under consideration. If there had been a bill covering such clerks, I could have furnished the information. I can only answer those questions appearing in the bill.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Do all those cases you spoke about go directly to the board?

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, as I have stated before, the board supervises all agreements.. The agreements which have been approved by the board during the period of its existence 338,566. All of the cases that were appealed from the referees, the board was compelled to hear testimony or hear argument on 6,857 cases. That represents the number of cases that were appealed by either party from the referee to the board.

Mr. PHILLIPS. And the referees do most of the work?

Mr. GLASS. No, they do not do most of the work, but they do their work.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Are the salaries of the referees increased by this bill?

Mr. GLASS. No, their salaries are not increased.

Mr. TRAINER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Glass, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. TRAINER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to know the number of new places allowed in this bill.

Mr. GLASS. The only changes contemplated by this bill are, as I have stated, an increase in the salary of the board, which consists of three members, and in the salary of the director,—four places in which there is contemplated a change by the provisions of this bill.

Mr. TRAINER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman, and ask what is the increase in the allowance in the bill.

Mr. GLASS. What do you mean by the increase in the allowance?

Mr. TRAINER. The total appropriation.

Mr. GLASS. Fifty-five hundred dollars. The members of the board are increased forty-five hundred dollars and the director one thousand dollars, making a total of fifty-five hundred dollars.

Mr. TRAINER. For this increase in the bill, has the Appropriation Committee made any allowance?

Mr. GLASS. I have not taken the matter up with the Appropriation Committee, so therefore, I cannot answer the question. I believe, however, that the Appropriation Committee will take care of it.

Mr. TRAINER. Mr. Speaker, my idea in asking this is to find out whether our revenue raisers are keeping up with the salary raisers or whether the salary raisers are not getting ahead of the revenue raisers. In other words, we are liable to find another deficiency after the first of the year. I think, perhaps, that this bill should be taken up in some way with the Appropriation Committee before this bill is considered.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, a few moment ago a bill was refused to be placed upon the calendar that gave to a poor fellow an increase in compensation and I think after this House voted against that poor fellow's interest, who was injured or wounded, then I say we ought to vote against this board getting an increase in salary under this act. I want to say to you that the ones who really deserve increase in compensation and who should have been voted for by this House tonight, should have had the increase in compensation, and for that reason alone, I stand opposed to increasing the salaries of the members of this board.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I think that the increase in salaries provided for in this bill is not unjustifiable. You will remember that this commission does not sit in one place or in one city; it sits in different cities throughout the State. It sits in the city of Philadelphia, in Scranton, in Pittsburgh, and I do not recall but it may be in other cities. These commissioners are required to move from one city to another and must discard any private business that they may have in order that they may properly perform the functions of their duties. The increase in salary is not a large increase; it amounts to $5,500 a year. If you wish to keep on that board those men who are now on it and who are well qualified to hold their office and who perform their duties with fidelity, I believe that you should vote in favor of this increase. I think the gentleman from Lackawanna who spoke a moment ago will agree that the members of this board are not charged with any unfairness; he has absolutely no indictment against them on that score. It seems to me that if we consider the work of the board, the work they do, six days in the week and that they have to move from city to city during a certain period, once a month, that they are entitled to the increased salary and that we are justified in giving the small increase that is asked for in this bill.

In reply to my friend from Philadelphia, I wish to say that it is the experience of this House that when a salary is increased and the Governor approves of the bill, immediately the Appropriation Committee of the Legislature is advised of that fact and fixes the appropriation to meet this increase, and there is ample money in the treasury to provide for this increase. In reply to the gentleman from Clearfield, it is my understanding that the income which the Board receives is immediately turned over into the State Treasury and the compensation board and all those departments are paid out of the appropriation provided for in the General Appropriation. I hope that this measure will prevail and I think that you will not commit an error in voting to increase the salaries of the members of this board who are working faithfully in the interests of the State.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I will agree heartily with the sponsor of this bill that the Workmen's Compensation Act is a fine piece of legislation. On the whole, it has been wisely and faithfully administered by the members of the board. My own attitude on the subject of increased salaries has changed considerably since last week. Last week we were endeavoring to raise new taxes. For my own part, when a situation exists making it necessary for increased taxation in order to secure new sources of revenue and to produce money enough to keep the Government going, that naturally precludes raises in salaries, as I believe, in all cases except in those whose salaries are below the standard of life. That is not the case of those affected by this bill. Their salaries are above the standard of life at the present time and it seems to me that it does not call for an increase because they are making from five to seven thousand dollars a year. Now, at a time when we are laying a fresh burden of taxation upon the people and because of the necessity for an income from the different sources of taxation, with decreasing work at the same time in a period of business depression, and because of the business depression which is resulting in the reduction in the cost of living because of this, in this period of business depression, that is one reason why we should not favorably consider the increase of salaries unless the salary is below the standard of living, and when there is an advance instead of a decrease in the standard of living. In view of these conditions as the decrease is going down in this Commonwealth, we should not be willing to increase taxation and lay fresh taxes in this Commonwealth.

Mr. DENNING. Mr. Speaker, I favor this bill because we increased the salaries of the judges of the Superior Court of this State, and I believe that the Workmen's Compensation Board is of as much importance as the Superior Court of Pennsylvania; they are the men who are the judges of the working people of this State, and those men are entitled to fair compensation. We have had men who have been trying in this Workmen's Compensation Board to be true and to do justice to the working men of this State and I hope that the members of this House will vote to raise their salaries as provided for in this bill.

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative, and the bill falls.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 695, file folio No. 3897, on page 6 of today's calendar, bills on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Whitaker,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 695, entitled:

An Act to amend section two of an act approved the twentieth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred and twenty-one) entitled "An act providing for the imposition and collection of certain taxes upon the transfer of property passing from a decedent who was a resident of this Commonwealth at the time of his death and of property within this Commonwealth of a decedent who was a non-resident of the Commonwealth at the time of his death and making it unlawful for any corporation of this Commonwealth or national banking association located therein to transfer the stock of such corporation or banking association standing in the name of any such decedent until the tax on the transfer thereof has been paid and providing penalties and citing certain acts for repeal"

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, this is one of the revenue-raising measures which was considered and defeated by this House last Wednesday. It provides for an increase in the decedent's State tax. As the House will remember, at that time many members of the House had objections to the bill because it provided for an increase in the direct inheritance tax as well as the collateral inheritance tax. The objection to it seemed to be so decidedly in that one particular of increase on direct inheritance tax that I offered an amendment later in the day after it had been defeated and reconsidered, placing the direct inheritance tax exactly where it has always been, at two per cent. Therefore, there is no increase whatever in the direct inheritance tax feature of the bill. Under the amendments as made to the bill the collateral inheritance tax is now increased from seven and one-half per cent to ten per cent., and in the estimation of those who have been collecting the taxes the net result will be about the same as it was before, the advantage being that the tax will now come from collateral estates, and not from direct estates; and I believe in that manner the objections which were offered to it when it was considered last Wednesday will have been eliminated. No legatee receiving something from a deceased relative will refuse to take his legacy, and we can feel sure that he will accept his legacy with a smile, even though it has been depreciated to the extent of this small tax. After all, this tax on a decedent's estate seems to be the logical as well as the practical way of raising revenues for the State; and now that it comes from those who have not assisted in the earning of the estate, who have not generally been supported by the funds of the estate, and who will actually get something which they never had before, and had no right to expect, we can hardly consider this tax as a hardship. The situation as discussed last week still remains the same, that the revenues of the State need this increase, and in order that the program which we considered so carefully last week be carried out, I hope the House will agree to this bill as it now stands.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up, at this time from page 7 of to-day's calender, bills on final passage postponed, House Bill No. 318, file folio 3911.

Agreeably to order.

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Sowers.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 318, entitled:

An Act to amend section twelve of and to supplement the act approved the fifth day of February one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five (Pamphlet Laws fifty-six) entitled "An act relative to the establishment and jurisdiction of magistrates' courts in the city of Philadelphia" as amended limiting the jurisdiction of magistrates in cases of arrest without warrant and on view to their respective districts and to the central police station without changing or affecting the jurisdiction of the municipal court and providing for the attendance of magistrates at the central police station

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SOWERS. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the sponsor of the bill to explain what changes it makes in the present law.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, the change that this bill makes in the existing law is this: In Philadelphia, for years past, it has been the custom on election day early in the morning, to arrest your political opponent and take him to Station A, then cart him to Station House B, then when his friends have caught up to him, to run him out the back door and run him around to Station C, and then on to D, and then when the polls are about to close, to let him out. That is the evil that this bill seeks to correct. That is the evil that every reformer, until the present time, in the city and county of Philadelphia, complained of. This is a serious evil. This bill seeks to correct that evil by saying that the police department in the city of Philadelphia when they arrest men, can take them to one station-house or take them to the central station, and not hide him in some unknown place, so that when a man is arrested, you know where to go, either to the district station-house or the central station.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I very much appreciate the elucidating explanation of the gentleman from Philadelphia, and that concludes my interrogation, but I want to say to the members of this House that there are grounds for very serious objections to this bill. I have been a reformer in the city of Philadelphia for some years past, and am proud of the title. My friends twenty years ago were arrested in the way which my friend describes, but my friend from Philadelphia was not in sympathy with the reformers then. The procedure of that time has passed away, and I want to say emphatically that a higher order in politics has come to pass.

I think this bill is intended to harrass the reformers and not to protect them. If my friend is anxious to protect them now, it is the first time in his life.

Now, this bill is opposed by the mayor of the city of Philadelphia, by the Director of Public Safety, by the Superintendent of Police and by the District Attorney. It is opposed by them because they think they see a protection in it, not for the reformers but for the criminals. Mr. Speaker, I want to read into the record of the House this letter from Mr. James T. Cortelyou, Director of the Department of Public Safety. The letter reads as follows: "My Dear Mr. Edmonds: In reply to your letter of February 10, with reference to House Bill No. 318, known as the Sowers bill, which will be called up for third reading before the Legislature at Harrisburg this evening (this letter was written two months ago when the bill was still on the calendar) I beg to inform you that this bill as it now stands apparently provides that policemen or others making arrests, shall take prisoners to the nearest police station, so that bail may be arranged by the magistrate of the district.

This provision, I believe, if carried through, would be most dangerous and detrimental to the interests of the citizens of Philadelphia. It means that police authorities will be compelled to bring to the nearest magistrate all cases in which arrests were made without warrant or on view in his district.

There have been many very important cases during the past year, in which arrests have been made without warrant and on view, in which the police authorities believed it absolutely necessary, in the interest of the city of Philadelphia, and also in the interest of the defendants themselves, to have them brought before magistrates sitting at City Hall.

During the past year, a most determined effort has been made to break up the traffic in drugs, organized vice and gambling and great leniency and consideration has been shown some of the offenders by magistrates in the districts in which the crimes were committed and witnessed.

If this bill is passed in its present form, serious and most dangerous difficulties will be placed in the way of the police authorities in the proper enforcement of laws which are intended to curb the vicious element with which we have to contend. In many of our notorious murder, banditry and burglary cases, we have found it absolutely necessary to have the defendants taken to the Central Station, in order that proper and speedy investigation could be made, so as to safeguard the interests of the citizen.

At City Hall we have a force of detectives constantly at hand, magistrates who are holding court until late hours of the night, and in addition, the facilities of the District Attorney's office, which are so very essential in the preparation of evidence and guidance of officers participating in the different cases. In many cases coming to the attention of the Bureau of Police, it is necessary for the protection of the defendant to have the case brought to the Central Station.

Take for instance the recent murder at 17th and Lombard streets, which occurred a few days ago; a colored man murdered a woman and later shot four members of the police department, and was finally subdued after he was shot twelve times and taken to the hospital, where he died. The feeling of the people in that section was so intense that it would have been a serious mistake to have taken this man to the nearest police station for a hearing before a local magistrate.

In gambling, vice and drug cases the police have encountered very strong obstacles in the way of local political control, which in many cases has resulted in the discharge of the offenders without punishment or with nominal fine, notwithstanding the fact that the offenders were not residents of the district in which they committed the offense, but had opened up business in that district on a promise that in the event of arrest, their interests would be protected. This same vicious practice could prevail in the case of drug peddlers and distributors, who make their headquarters and keep their stock in certain sections of the city and then make their distribution and sale in other sections.

I do not know of any time when it is more necessary that the very best effort should be put forth to assist the authorities in curbing crime and preventing disorder and damage to the lives and property of the citizens of Philadelphia. I feel that it would be a most dangerous and grave mistake if this bill were passed in its present form."

Now, Mr. Speaker, since that letter was written the bill has been amended somewhat. It now provides that offenders can be taken to the Central Station, and then at the Central Station there is to be a magistrate sitting, sitting alphabetically, one each for two weeks at a time, and if one is absent he is to designate the one to take his place. Now, in opposing a bill of this kind, it is necessary to speak plainly, and personally I intend to speak plainly. In my judgment the local magistracy in Philadelphia has not maintained in recent years the high ideals which it maintained in the past. I recall such men as Eisenbrown and Gardner, men of fairness, probity and integrity. Often, in recent years the magistracy has been given to a man as a political reward, and if he acts as such magistrate in a district where he is the political boss, when a case comes before him the suspicion of bias in his decisions is bound to attach to him, whether the man be as honest and as just as Aristides and honest in his desire to render just decisions. When two people come before him, the prosecutor being his political friend and the other, the defendant, his political enemy, I submit to you that it is impossible for these litigants to feel that they are getting a fair deal. There is only one way to administer justice properly and that is by having the judges remove themselves from their political districts. We have cases in Philadelphia where time and time again when an attempt is made to clean up vice and crime in a district, the police feel that they are not receiving the proper co-operation from the magistrates, and as a result they take the defendant down to the central station at City Hall, where there is always sitting, day and night, a magistrate appointed by the mayor by virtue of his supervisory police power in the city, and there it is that these hearings are held. I submit to you that it is not a good thing to tinker with a system of justice in the interest of a political faction. It is not a good thing to change a law which has endured in Philadelphia for years. There have been grievances which we have suffered under this law, but those grievances are passing, and now that Philadelphia is coming down to the place where these grievances are passing, is it a fair thing to ask that the system be altered in order that these cases of arrest should be regulated and tried before a magistrate in a particular locality, or in some cases by the political leaders? If you think that is not a good procedure, I ask you to vote against this bill.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I listened with a great deal of attention to my friend's argument, and especially to what he said about the district magistrates, which to-day really applies to the Central Station. When I read in the Public Ledger that thousands and thousands of men were turned loose in Philadelphia on straw bail, I went over to the district attorney's office and I got a list of them and I have them here. Ninety-five per cent. of them were at the Central Station. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Edmonds, did not refer to these; here is the list (list produced). What do you find? When you look down on the list, what do you find as to straw goers? My friend from Philadelphia, Mr. Edmonds, says that the condition does not exist to-day. I am very much surprised and I thought he was over in Europe still. Let us look at this case. On election day of May 20th, and perhaps the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Trainer, may know something about the case, Archie Miller was arrested between the hours of seven and eight A. M. and carted about from four to five different station houses and was left to go at 5 o'clock in the afternoon under $2500 bail before a reform magistrate, and the next day a police officer would say, "Why, we don't know what they arrested this man for?" But everybody else but Mr. Edmonds knows that he came over from the polls that day, and gentlemen of the House, when the election court opened the ballot box in that division they found every ticket in that box ripped and torn into ribbons, and these men, these officers who took him, some of them are under indictment and they are fleeing from justice and every man knows and Mayor Moore can tell you that Christie is another man. They had a man by the name of Walker arrested on a charge of gambling and taken down to the Central Station and entered bail to appear before the district magistrate and the hands of honesty went up, "Oh My God," the exclamation went out "that gambler is getting a hearing before the district magistrate." Oh, how the hands of virtue went up. The associates of Mayor Moore said, "Horrible, horrible." Those reformers think everybody is crooked but themselves. They put the men under bail and somebody bailed them out for $1000 when they appeared before the local magistrate. High handed, un-American, dangerous, and the most horrible thing ever heard of. Moore and his associates went and issued a warrant and charged a man with the same offense and he went before the magistrate in the Central Station and before their reform magistrate where they did'nt even think that the judge in their favor was enough, they sent around to get Judge Gordon's son, the Assistant District Attorney, and brought him around to get justice and when they got there Judge Gordon's son with that honesty and integrity and fairness for which he is known said, "I cannot hold this man for court; you have no evidence." Then what happened? We arrested the prosecutor and that prosecutor came up before the local magistrate and the great reformers, the men who said that they wanted honesty; the men who said that they wanted justice, they were represented by Mayor Moore's Superintendent of Police and when the man was held for court he stepped before the magistrate and said, "I will enter bail for that man." I looked at him and said, "We need real estate security." He said, "That does not make any difference; I am the Superintendent of Police and I will enter his bail," and that is one of Mayor Moore's straw bail goers. Mr. Speaker, I want to call your attention to another case; right in my own district. There was a boy that went across to fight in France. He came back gassed, and he was also wounded. He was arrested for being in some argument in the northern part of the district, beaten and robbed and sent to the hospital and was then taken down to the Central Station to get a hearing. What kind of a hearing did he get? He got soaked by the honest magistrate down there the great reformer, in the interest of the people, and he was fined ten dollars and costs. I said, "An injustice has been done to you. We will arrest the man who assaulted you," and we arrested the man for assault and battery. We did it, and we went before an eminent judge in Philadelphia, the first day that women served on the jury, and the man said, "No woman for me," and he wanted men on the jury, and a verdict of guilty was rendered. That man was sentenced to sixty days in jail, and mind you, that was a police officer. I want you to remember that we have police in our city who are indulging in crime, and we have this one who committed this assault and on whom we proved the charge and he was sentenced to sixty days in jail, and the magistrate of that district court was fair, honest and honorable. The Central Station has three magistrates, Carson, McCleary and Renshaw, the three men they are putting up for election this fall. Is it not funny that Mayor Moore must select three men to stand for candidates as magistrates for the Central Station of Philadelphia. This is the reason: When I offered this bill in this House, one of the newspapers declared that it was a crime; that I was protecting gamblers; that I was to care for wrong and for vice and that my object was to shield all such practices. I was villified; I was slandered and libelled, but that makes no impression on reformers, but they look at you and say, "You are a bad man." What did I do? I went and loked up the records and found out that forty-seven arrests that were made were taken to the Central Station, and when they went in there before the three magistrates who tried them, who are going to try to be elected this fall, forty of them were discharged. Could a district magistrate do much more than that? Seventy-seven cases were taken before a grand jury and then what happened? Under that same police force the grand jury could not find enough evidence to return a true bill of indictment and the police lay down. Why? Because they had to.

"Murders, riots, terrorism, go unchecked by the police. Citizens demand that something be done to halt lawlessness. Five killings, hundreds of assaults, with few arrests and convictions. Investigations show four murders are unsolved and juries have dropped cases. Do authorities for political reasons show leniency, is the question."

Does Mayor Moore's administration show political leniency? The newspaper says, "Call in, for God's sake, call in the State police," and then a couple of days after they ask for the State police to come into Philadelphia they decide they do not want them. Now, Mr. Speaker, I have heard of case after case. I can give the cases, the names, the times, the courts, and places. My friend cannot cite a case. My friend cannot produce a case. I am asking you men to pass this bill to put politics out of the magistrate's office and keep Mayor Moore's politics out of the Central Station. Does he rely on the cases there, as the Ledger says, to show political leniency and build up a machine for himself? I don't want to get into a conflict, and I am sorry to think that my friend, Mr. Edmonds, my friend from Philadelphia, Mr. Edmonds, representing a district eight miles from City Hall, a long distance away, would advocate that his neighbors, for some trifling offense, be arrested and carted in a public conveyance and disgraced before the public by being hauled over the streets and down to the Central Station. Why, if he was to come up here and advocate that the boys arrested for gutter lounging should be publicly arrested and be hauled over the streets to the City Hall, and in order to reform a man haul him eight miles, I think he would have a poor chance of coming back here.

Mr. TRAINER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I did not enjoy the reference to Mr. Archie Miller, but I want to say to you gentlemen that I could give you a concrete example of why the bill should be defeated. I live in a police district that holds up a horrible record during the Smith administration of four years. In the district in which I live a gunman, the keeper of a bawdy house, was allowed to take off his hat and coat in the lieutenant's room at the police station and take a chair alongside of the magistrate and help him conduct the hearings in the station house. Now, gentlemen, I will quote you a little past history from this district and you will probably see the reason why this bill should be voted down. This gentleman who had the privilege of sitting besides the magistrates and conducting the hearings was the gentleman who in 1917 had charge of thirteen gunmen from New York, whose duty it was to strike me down in the streets of the third ward. On this particular day in 1917, this man had charge of the gang of men in the now famous fifth ward case. I am permitted to speak on this subject because five of the men came on ahead of time. This gentleman heard the news and took to his heels and away to the Reading Terminal. In 1918, three weeks before the Beidleman primary, when the gunmen who were to shoot me down sat in the police sergeant's room of the general district in citizens clothes, and a special officer of my own district, only a stronger and more powerful influence than man's wisdom permitted me to go through that day. Now then, in this particular station house there was a gentleman who stands convicted to-day for the third time before the people. Just to give you an illustration of how justice is perverted, if I am permitted to say, men have been tried four times, once on disagreement of a jury, the second time a conviction and new trial, the third time a conviction and a new trial, and now the fourth conviction and awaiting argument for a new trial. These men were tools and creatures of this particular magistrate who occupied a seat in the station house and conducted the hearings of the underworld. During these four years seventeen murders took place in our police district. I say to you with sorrow that not one of those cases reached the grand jury, and this particular gentleman who had been sentenced or convicted three times had the duty each morning at seven o'clock to enter the police station and examine the slate and see the names and amount of money taken, and during the four years he was at the station house this gunman and the magistrate amassed the sum of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars taken in a business way from the prisoners of this station house. Now, I say this gentlemen, in all kindness, I defy contradiction to a single word. This condition no longer exists that our prisoners are taken to the station house and not to the magistrate in order to get fair play and get a fair hearing. We have had a police clean-up previous to the Smith administration because we would not stand for it any longer. In February, or rather in March, 1915, during ten months three hundred and sixty-two cocaine cases were arrested. I say to you, voicing the sentiment in our district that this bill will be defeated unanimously if you wish to see the horrible conditions of the Smith administration repeated.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, we who are from the farming districts of this great Commonwealth have been made to think that our blood has ceased to flow since hearing about these horrible conditions that have existed over in the State of New Jersey. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I call for the previous question.

The SPEAKER. The call for the previous question has not been seconded by the required number of members.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Edmonds.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Edmonds, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EDMONDS. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if he knows Judge Audenreid, of Philadelphia.

Mr. EDMONDS. I do.

Mr. SOWERS. Isn't he one of the most able judges in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania?

Mr. EDMONDS. He certainly is recognized as one of the ablest.

Mr. SOWERS. One of the ablest in the whole of Pennsylvania?

Mr. EDMONDS. So far as my acquaintance with the whole of Pennsylvania goes.

Mr. SOWERS. And you have great respect for his opinion?

Mr. EDMONDS. I would have a great deal of respect for his legal opinion.

Mr. SOWERS. I will refer you to his charge on last Tuesday to a jury. It is in the case of Moiser vs. Dale. I know you are not in court much, but I have it here in order to remind you that there is a court. "If a man be not drunken, the officer need not take him to the nearest station house. His duty is to take him to the nearest magistrate's office." Being acquainted with his charge, how can you explain to this House why the mayor of Philadelphia has usurped and taken upon himself the law and the authority by taking people eight and ten and fifteen and twenty miles away from home when we have this law? Would you like to look at the charge of the court to refresh your mind?

Mr. EDMONDS. Not in the slightest, and, Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SOWERS. Yes, Mr. Speaker, but I want the gentleman to answer my question first.

Mr. EDMONDS. What you have read from the charge is a statement of the law, is it not?

Mr. SOWERS. A statement of the law by one of the ablest judges.

Mr. EDMONDS. If that is so, then why do you want any more law?

Mr. SOWERS. What I want is this: To drive Americanism into Mayor Moore, to try and make him stand his ground; he swore on the Bible to enforce the law, and what I want is to see that he lives up to his oath.

Mr. EDMONDS. If what the gentleman wants to do is to perform a surgical operation on the mayor of Philadelphia, the title to his bill is a misnomer.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, the mayor of Philadelphia has been dropped from the news columns and now they have him in the joke columns. The Inquirer of last Tuesday says "Upon what meat does he feed that he has grown so great?"

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, there is only one thing more I want to say, all joking aside, and there has been of course some jesting in this matter. Here is the point: There is an existing law. If an injustice has been done under that law, there is a remedy. What need is there for a new law just to meet some political exigency in some part of the city. When an injustice results, it is invariably the case that some members of the minor judiciary are found who are a part of a political organization, and when a member of the judiciary goes into politics, whether a part of the major or minor judiciary, he stultifies his office.

Reference has been made to the Philadelphia policemen. I want to say that the Philadelphia police force, when they had a tremendously difficult task on their hands, grappled with that task manfully. I want to refer the House and there are men on the floor of this House who know it, that when on July 18th, with the Twenty-eighth Division on one side and the Third Division on the other side, when they took the town of Chateau-Thierry and turned the tide of war, that job was placed in charge of a company of Philadelphia policemen and firemen. When the town of Coblenz was taken by the army of occupation in September, 1918, again it was the Philadelphia policemen and firemen were placed in charge. Those men, when they are left alone, do their duty well, and the greatest drawback to them is the presence of this political influence in the enforcement of justice. It seems a shame, gentlemen, in this late hour of the session, to ask us to take up our time in considering the operation of some scheme to defeat justice in order to meet with the political exigencies in some part of the city.

Mr. SMINK. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. SMINK. Do you believe that the great metropolitan newspapers are institutions for good?

Mr. SOWERS. The metropolitan newspapers?

Mr. SMINK. The large newspapers in the city of Philadelphia.

Mr. SOWERS. What newspapers in the city do you mean?

Mr. SMINK. The Ledger, North American, Inquirer, Bulletin and the Record.

Mr. SOWERS. Well, I think they do good work when they tell the truth, but do you always find them telling the truth?

Mr. SMINK. Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. SOWERS. I am here, go ahead.

Mr. SMINK. Do you attach any significance to the fact that every newspaper in the city of Philadelphia has editorially declared that this bill is obnoxious and detrimental to the best interests of the city?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, if that isn't some question! Why just to show you how ridiculous the Philadelphia newspapers are, I want to call your attention to the fact that on the statute books is the act of 1869. I went to the Legislative Reference Bureau and I said to Fertig, "Let us see if we cannot put up a joke on the Press of Philadelphia. Copy off that act of 1869 for me, and change the penalty of the act of 1869 from fifty dollars to one hundred dollars." He said he didn't know about it. I induced him to copy the act and change the penalty from fifty dollars to one hundred dollars. I came up here and put the bill in, and the next day I looked at the newspapers. My God! I didn't know I was the leader of the underworld; I didn't know I was the leader of the drug fiends: I didn't know that I was carrying around with me a lot of criminals; I did not know that I was associating with criminals and thieves. I just offered a bill, an exact duplicate of the law already on the statute books with the exception of the change from fifty dollars to one hundred dollars, and Mr. Speaker, after lambasting me, after slandering me and after calling me a crook and a thief and the leader of the underworld, there hasn't been a newspaper in the city of Philadelphia, from the biggest one to the littlest one, that said, "Sowers, we made a mistake." Now, what faith have you got in the newspapers? Have you got another question?

Mr. SMINK. Mr. Speaker, the sponsor of the bill has made an attempt to answer my question, but I submit to you that he has not answered it in any way, shape or form. He has tried to evade it. Now, I am not going to take up much of your time because I realize as well as every other member of this House does, that this is more of a family quarrel than anything else. Mr. Speaker, I know from being on the side lines at previous sessions that you have had enough of that. I do not think that the present Mayor of the City of Philadelphia needs any man to stand upon the floor of the House of Representatives of this State to defend his Americanism. He was formerly one of the foremost congressmen of the State of Pennsylvania and his record during the war as a congressman and his record as Mayor of the City of Philadelphia, up to the present time, is unimpeachable. And I say the same thing for the present director of public safety, James Cortelyou. This bill has been attacked by every newspaper in Philadelphia, and I do not speak from the standpoint of news notes but I speak from the standpoint of the editorial room which, at least, is respected by the community at large. I do not believe that the sponsor of this bill would go so far as to say that the mayor controlled these editorial rooms, as a whole, in order to get support against this bill. I submit to you that when five great metropolitan newspapers condemn this bill, editorially, that there must be something wrong with it. I know that it is a choice of two evils: There is no necessity for me to go into the legal phase of this question that has been so ably handled by the sponsor and by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Edmonds, but I do believe that we should look at this as a choice of two evils. We have these conditions existing in Philadelphia, and if this law goes into effect and if we pass this bill in this House, the belief would be that the evils would be increased a great deal instead of lessened. Mr. Sowers' bill does not propose to condemn the existence of the central station. It provides that those magistrates who are sitting in their own district be brought to the Central Station in the city.

In conclusion, I want to say the reason I brought up the question on the newspapers is that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, read a headline from the Philadelphia Public Ledger, from the news column, and he says that is what the Public Ledger says, but he took it from the news column. Every man knows that he does not follow the news column of any newspaper for authentic guidance, although we ofttimes permit the editorial columns to mold our opinion, and I say to you, gentlemen, that the Public Ledger says, editorially, that we should defeat this bill.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by the following members: Messrs. Goodnough, Lafferty, Haldeman, Pike, Steedle, Vickerman, Haws, Bidelspacher, Bluett, Blair, Boland, Brady, J. Miller, Conner, Cook, Crum, Dawson, Dunlap, Ehrhart, Flynn and others.

The SPEAKER. More than twenty members having joined in moving the previous question,

On the question,

Shall the main question now be put?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative, and the bill falls.

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up from page 7 of to-day's calendar, bills on final passage postponed, House Bill No. 747, file folio 1237.

Agreeably to order.

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. WHITEHOUSE,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 747, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of an act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand eight hundred ninety-five (Pamphlet Laws two hundred seventy-five) entitled "An act dividing the cities of this State into three classes with respect to their population and designating the mode of ascertaining and changing the classification thereof in accordance therewith"

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I rise to oppose this bill for certain reasons. One is that it is my opinion that the bill is unconstitutional. The second reason is that it does not meet with the approval of a majority of the people who are affected by this bill. As to the constitutionality of the act, I will refer you to the following:

In Wheeler vs. Philadelphia, 77, Pa., 338, a question of classification first arose under the act of May 23, 1874, entitled:

"An Act dividing the cities of this State into three classes, regulating the passage of ordinances," and so forth; cities of the first class comprising those exceeding three hundred thousand population, of the second class from one hundred thousand to three hundred thousand, of the third class from ten thousand to one hundred thousand. The Supreme Court found that the classification therein provided for is founded on certain manifest peculiarities distinguishing the cities of each class from the others. In Ayers's Appeal, 122 Pa. 266, the Supreme Court held that the preceding two acts of April 11, 1876, and May 24, 1887, were unconstitutional and void as in violation of section 7, article III, of the Constituiton. From the opinion of Mr. Justice Sterrett, page 281, the following appears: "Some of the cases above cited have been quoted at considerable length, for the purpose of showing that this court never intended to sanction classification, as a pretext for special or local legislation. On the contrary, the underlying principle of all the cases is that classification with a view of legislating for either class separately is essentially unconstitutional, unless a necessity therefor exists,—a necessity springing from manifest peculiarities clearly distinguishing those of one class from each of the other classes, and imperatively demanding legislation for each class separately that would be useless and detrimental to the others."

Now, as to this particular bill, it proceeds to raise the ante from one hundred thousand to one hundred and twenty-five thousand. The people of Erie and people of Reading have been anxiously waiting the time when the Governor will certify those two cities as cities of the second class, just as a boy when he reaches the age of twenty-one feels that the law of Pennsylvania is giving him the right to vote at twenty-one.

Suppose the House should turn in and say twenty-two is the majority. You can readily see how that boy would feel when he reached the age of twenty-one. So it is with those two cities which have now reached the stage where they are about to be admitted to the second class of cities, and you will admit that under the decisions I have quoted this act is clearly unconstitutional. I ask each and every member of this House to vote against this bill.

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I will take but a few moments in reply to the gentlemen's criticism of the bill. An act such as this has been passed on by the courts on many occasions. In 1905, a similar act raising the population of first class, or rather second class cities from six hundred thousand to one hundred thousand was passed and declared unconstitutional by the courts. I have word from the Legislative Reference Bureau that this act is constitutional, and if there is any question as to its constitutionality, I submit that this is not the place to work it out. The Attorney General's office is the place, and I refer the gentlemen to 37 Superior Court, 199, and to 200 Pennsylvania, where the Pittsburgh case was decided. You will find it is a general act, both in substance and in expression, and even though it does indicate some barrier in special localities, it is a general act nevertheless. As to sentiment, I submit that if the representatives from Berks County represent the sentiment of the people of Reading, they are in favor of this bill. The two members from the City of Reading and the Senator from Berks County will say to the people of Erie that they are in favor of this bill. I have before me the book with maps and data compiled by W. Harry Baker which gives the population of the city of Erie at 93,372, which was duly certified to by the government, and a letter to one of the representatives from Erie, Mr. Craig. I say to you there is a very grave question as to whether or not it benefits Erie, and if it does not, the opinion referred to is not correct. If you feel that the representatives from Erie represent the sentiment of their community, and that the representatives of Reading represent the sentiment of their community, then I ask you to vote against this bill.

I might say in passing that the Governor in his message practically suggested this bill. He said if we don't give these people relief by an act of Legislature I will have to certify them into the second class. I ask you in all fairness, gentlemen, speaking as the representative of my own county, to vote for this relief.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I am the greatest believer in the referendum. I believe that the people of any particular community or locality should have the right to say whether or not they want this thing or that thing. I went to the sponsor of the bill and I suggested a referendum to be offered as an amendment to this particular bill for the people of Erie and Reading to vote on the question of whether they desired to be classed as a second class city, and the request was politely refused. Now, in reply to the gentleman from Schuylkill, if, as he states, that the people in these particular communities are vitally interested in this bill and are anxious to see it pass, why is it that one of the members from Reading or Erie did not introduce the bill to show the particular spirit. Why was it necessary to go to Schuylkill county to get a member to offer this bill? If they are so vitally interested and are so afraid of their people, then I say that it is time we voted this bill down.

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I take issue with the gentleman from Pittsburgh when he says that we were afraid of a referendum to get the sentiment of the people. We tried in all fairness to have this bill well looked into. We bumped into this situation, then, and I was not going to refer to it, where the chairman of the committee called meetings and never attended them, but sent substitutes. He called meetings and never attended them himself. We requested him to call meetings, and he said, "I am chairman." Delay, nothing but delay did we find in this bill, and at the last moment, when we had enough members present to bring the bill out, at the last moment he suggested that the committee should go and find out the sentiment of the people, when he had the sentiment from the members themselves. Delay—a scheme of delay is all we were bumping into, and is it any wonder we refused to be bound by the artful schemes of the chairman of the Municipal Corporations Committee?

Mr. BOLARD. Mr. Speaker, I want to say just a word in regard to this bill, since it has reference to my Congressional district.

I cannot understand why the members who are perhaps a little closer associated in my district to the city, have got to go to another member of the House to get the sentiment on this particular bill, especially when the cities have gotten to the point where, under the law, they automatically pass to cities of the second class. All that is required is a certificate from the Governor to make it a city of the second class. Now, the query in my mind is why we should put through this Legislature a bill striking the old law off the books that has held for thirty years, simply to shut out two cities of this State from automatically under the present law to second class cities. Isn't there something peculiar back of such legislation? I know the business interests of Erie pretty well; I know the business men of Erie pretty well, I know the conditions there pretty well—it is practically my home town. I do not live in it, I live in another county, but I consider it my home town. I am not a lawyer, but it is easy for a layman to see that if we were to pass this law at this session, to be effective, it would have to be retroactive to take effect, and would have to kill a condition that existed before the law was passed. I know that if we passed this law at this time it must take effect retroactively to kill that local condition that is now in existence, because when a city's population has passed the one hundred thousand mark, all that is necessary is a certificate from the Governor to make that a city of the second class. Now, I have before me telegrams from the different organizations that exist in different parts of the State, asking to have this bill opposed. Now, gentlemen of this House, it is not the ruling officers of the city that are asking to have this bill passed, it is not the ruling business interests of the city. I just want to read some of the names at the bottom of this telegram, asking that this bill be opposed. This telegram is signed by the Board of Commerce. That board is made up of several Chambers of Commerce and boards of commerce several years ago being consolidated into one large body, the Board of Commerce. The manufacturers' association of Erie, the Woman Voters' League of Erie—and that league in that Congressional district showed they had some power in the last election. Then there are the women's clubs. Those organizations are asking the men of this House to vote down this bill and to let the legislation stand as it stands now, and as coming from that Congressional district, I ask the members of this House to defeat this bill.

Mr. POSEY. Mr. Speaker, as a member of the Legislature from Reading, the first district of Berks county, I want to talk in favor of this Whitehouse bill, House Bill No. 747. The gentleman on the other side of the House just referred to the telegram he received from Erie. I received that same telegram, and I have letters and telegrams, a number of them in my desk, which can be seen upon application, from the different organizations, fraternal organizations included, from the city of Reading, protesting against Reading going into a city of the second class. Ten or twelve years ago, the only thought in the minds of the Reading people was how grand and glorious it was going to be when it became a city of the second class, and they wondered whether at the same time other cities were growing as great as Reading. To-day, one of the cities of the second class that they want Reading to go into, has a population of six hundred thousand as against Reading's one hundred and seven thousand. I want to ask you in all fairness if you think it justice to put Reading, with its one hundred and seven thousand people, in the same class with a city which has pretty nearly six hundred thousand people—and I refer to Pittsburgh. If this bill does not go into effect, Reading goes into the same class with Pittsburgh and Scranton. I want to say right here that it would only be for a period of two years. Under an amendment of the Constitution we would be reclassified at that time dropping us back into a fourth class city, which includes cities with a population of from one hundred thousand to two hundred and fifty thousand. I just want to make a few comparisons. Take the city of Scranton, for instance. Their budget last year was just $530,000 more than Reading. That is just a little item to show you the inconsistency of putting Reading in as a second class city. Last year it cost us less than three thousand dollars to have our voters registered. Under the second class city law, it would have cost forty thousand dollars, because we would have to have a board of registration commissioners appointed. In the city of Pittsburgh, the police force for one year costs more than Reading's revenue for one year. Now, gentlemen, I want to say that the only thing that the opponents to this bill can say in reference to second class cities is, "Prosperity, progress and prestige." When you go into another community, do they say, "Do you come from a first class city?" Don't they always say, "What population does your city have?" Can anyone here say that it is going to be anything but a drawback to the city of Reading and Erie—Erie is not considered in this bill because the census only shows some ninety thousand—that is the last official census of January 1, 1921. They now have one hnudred and two thousand. Now, the city of Reading to-day is in debt for several millions of dollars. They have not enough money to go along under the third class city classification. How could it function as a second class city, and mind you, that will only be for a period of two years when we will be reclassified according to the amendment to the Constitution into seven classes, putting Reading in the fourth class. I ask you in all fairness to vote for this Whitehouse bill and I want to affirm the remark of the gentleman when he said that the five members from Berks county were for this bill.

Mr. EACHES. Mr. Speaker, I want to go on record to refute the charge made by one of the members at the public hearing when he says that my colleague and myself did not represent the citizens of Reading. I want to say to you that I have received the largest majority that was ever given to a member running for the Legislature in the city of Reading. If that is not proof enough that we are representing the citizens of Reading, what other proof may be desired? I wish to say one other thing, from another angle, which has not been brought out to-night, and that is in regard to the comparison between Reading and Pittsburgh; it is ridiculous in all extremes. It is the same as taking a new-born child and putting on him a long pair of pants and an overcoat and saying to him, "Go out and work." Every man in this House knows to-night that any city that has advanced from one class to another upwards, and advancement means upward, knows that there will be a gradual increase in taxes and the taxes will fall on the vast majority; not on a few. The residential property in the city of Reading to-day is assessed now at 70 per cent of the value. The business section of the city at 100 per cent. of the valuation. We are now contemplating repairs in Reading and improvements by the way of eliminating grade crossings, on Seventh street, which at the lowest estimate it is stated means the expenditure of $6,000,000, but Reading does not pay all: only part of it. We also have two additions; one, as a matter of fact, cost the city $5,000 more than the revenue they are receiving.

I hope that the gentlemen of this body feel satisfied with the representation of the members from Berks County.

Mr. BLAIR. Mr. Speaker, just a few words. There has been a good deal said that I was going to say, but I do not want to repeat it. I want to refute some of the charges made against Erie county. I have always stood against this bill and I have always been opposed to it, and to-day there were members going all over this House and they have come to me and told me to vote for this bill because the members of Erie were in favor of it. I was opposed to it. Erie and Reading having already attained to the legal goal, so long guaranteed to them by law, and now we object to have that goal extended by 25,000, and that is just the reason why I am opposed to it. There are some very peculiar circumstances. At the beginning of this session of the Legislature the Governor certified that Erie and Reading were becoming second class cities and that they were second class cities already as far as population is concerned. And here we are trying to pass a bill to prevent their being what they already are. I have taken special pains to inquire into the condition of affairs in the city of Erie, and I find that the people representing 75 per cent. of the taxpayers of the city of Erie are opposed to this Whitehouse bill and are prepared to fight this bill in the Supreme Court if by hook or crook it should pass this House and become a law. It is recommended on the ground of economy. The people up in Erie county think it is no time to recommend anything on the ground of economy down here. On the other hand I realize that there are men in the city of Erie who are just as capable to pass upon this situation as we are. The people of Erie are opposed to this bill and I ask you as representatives of that county to vote against it.

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I wish to explain that I did not say, "all the members of Erie county." Mr. Blair always was opposed to it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

REASON FOR VOTE.

Mr. STRAUSS. Mr. Speaker, I vote "no" on this bill because as a legal proposition I believe that the law if enacted will nor be applicable to the City of Reading, but can only be applied in case of cities hereafter attaining a population of 125,000; and therefore to cover the present situation useless.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 640, as follows:

An Act authorizing the appointment of interpreters by the courts of common pleas in counties of the first class and providing for their compensation

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the courts of common pleas of each county of the first class are authorized to appoint such number of interpreters and in such languages as the courts deem necessary for the proper transaction of their business Such interpreters shall act in the courts of common pleas and in the courts of quarter sessions Interpreters so appointed may be removed by the courts appointing them at any time The annual salary of each of the interpreters so appointed shall be three thousand dollars to be paid out of the county treasury Before assuming the duties of the office each interpreter shall take and subscribe the oath prescribed by the Constitution of this Commonwealth

Section 2 The act approved the seventh day of July one thousand nine hundred nineteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred twenty-five) entitled "An act authorizing the appointment of interpreters in each county of this Commonwealth and providing for their compensation" is hereby repealed in so far as it relates to counties of the first class

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the sponsor of this bill?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Baldi, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BALDI. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, the sponsor of this bill, if he can suggest any reason why in its present form those who voted against it three weeks ago should vote for it now?

Mr. BALDI. Five weeks ago it was thirty-five hundred dollars, and this week it is three thousand dollars.

Mr. EDMONDS. Are there any other changes?

Mr. BALDI. Yes, sir; five weeks ago it included cities of the second class, and this week it is cities of the first class.

Mr. EDMONDS. Are there any other changes in regard to the courts to which it applies?

Mr. BALDI. No, sir.

Mr. EDMONDS. Does it apply to all courts in the cities of the first class?

Mr. BALDI. Only to common pleas.

Mr. EDMONDS. And not county courts?

Mr. BALDI. No, sir; it is the original bill.

Mr. EDMONDS. The title as given in the calendar is "An Act authorizing the appointment of interpreters by the several courts in counties of the first and second class and providing for their compensation." If the title is correctly stated in the calendar, it must be somewhat different from what you now state.

Mr. BALDI. I may add that I intend to amend it in the Senate, excluding cities of the second class.

Mr. EDMONDS. The title to-day includes both first and second.

Mr. BALDI. It does, but it will be amended.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, inasmuch as the bill has been called up for discussion and settlement in the House at this time, I want to state my own feeling towards that bill, and they are the same as they were more than three weeks ago. This is a salary-raiser in the County of Philadelphia, and it seems to me there is as much objection to a salary-raiser in the County of Philadelphia as there is in the State Treasury. Moreover, it is a salary-raiser of twenty-five hundred dollars to three thousand dollars, and it does not touch the class of those whose salary is the standard for the community. It seems to me in these times, when the cost of living is declining and the expense of government mounting up, this would be a good bill to vote against. Therefore, under those circumstances, I shall vote against the bill.

Mr. BALDI. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the first night this bill was called up for first reading, my friend, Mr. Edmonds, stated that the different judges opposed the bill. For the information of the House, I am safe in saying that three president judges of the Common Pleas courts of Philadelphia have stated their satisfaction so far as the bill is concerned. I also have the consent of the majority of the other judges, who are also in favor of the bill.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, nobody is more in favor of increasing salaries to a certain extent than I am. I have participated in scale negotiations, representing large labor organizations, for a number of years and yet I realize that high wages are an economic fallacy. I believe with Mr. Edmonds that there comes a time when no more burden can be placed upon business, or no more burden can be placed upon the Commonwealth. The sponsor of this bill in its original form called my attention to it, and I opposed it at that time. I felt that a thousand-dollar increase for court interpreters was absolutely unjustified, but notwithstanding the fact, or rather withstanding the fact, that I do not agree with these gentlemen I felt that it was my duty to ascertain, if possible, whether the increase was warranted. I approached those whom I believed were familiar with the work performed by these men, and I found that they were unalterably opposed to it, and those I refer to are Italian citizens of my district, who are more acquainted with this matter. When this bill was amended, the sponsor came to me a week ago and told me I had better be careful about voting against this bill because of the number of Italian citizens in my district. Therefore, upon my return from Philadelphia last week, I wrote them a letter, enclosing the bill itself, and told them of the amendments that were contemplated at that time. I wish to read to you a communication that was in my mail box to-night:

"Philadelphia, Pa., April 10, 1921.

"Hon. Isaac L. S. Smink,
"House of Representatives,
"Harrisburg, Pa.

"Dear Mr. Smink:

In reply to your communication on the Baldi bill, increasing the salaries of court interpreters in counties of the first class, and inclosing copy of the same, permit me to state that I have taken the same up at a meeting of the Club, and on motion they have instructed me to request you to use your influence to defeat same, as we can see no reason for such an increase.

"A great number of our members are acquainted with the men who would benefit by the passage of this bill, and therefore feel that we are in a position to pass judgment upon the same without prejudice. We realize the work that is done by these men fully, and appreciate the value to the city and county, but as taxpayers we also realize that we must bear an increase in salary, and as taxes are exceedingly high in Philadelphia at the present time we feel that we are in duty bound to all other tax payers to oppose increase in salary, especially where there are no facts brought forward to justify same.

"Thanking you for your communication and hoping that this bill will be defeated, I am,

"Respectfully yours,
"Samuel Iamina, President,
"Italian-American Republican Club."

That is an organization of a great many members in my legislative district. They are fully acquainted with the gentlemen who will be affected by this bill and I believe, gentlemen of the House, in view of the fact that this bill was defeated some two or three weeks ago, it is time to say how far this Legislature will go in increasing salaries and coming in here with a bill of a thousand-dollar increase. I submit to you, gentlemen, that we should defeat this bill, and perhaps they will come back with a proper bill for a reasonable increase for this work.

Mr. GREEN. Mr. Speaker, a few minutes ago Mr. Baldi mentioned the fact that he intended to amend this bill in the Senate. If there is any amendment to be made to this bill, I think this is the proper place, in the House, and we should not wait until it goes to the Senate.

Mr. McCARTHY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smink.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smink, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SMINK. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. McCARTHY. Mr. Smink, what is the name of that club?

Mr. SMINK. The Italian-American Republican Club.

Mr. McCARTHY. What is the membership?

Mr. SMINK. I cannot tell you definitely.

Mr. McCARTHY. Do you know whether it is two or three or four or one?

Mr. SMINK. I cannot say,—about two hundred and fifty.

Mr. McCARTHY. That is very small. Is there any other nationality in particular neighborhood that you speak of, any other natives or nationality or other foreign race of any kind?

Mr. SMINK. Members of this club?

Mr. McCARTHY. No, I mean that might need interpreters.

Mr. SMINK. That I cannot tell you.

Mr. McCARTHY. You know the Italians do not own Philadelphia?

Mr. SMINK. I read that communication, and I heard the explanation given by the sponsor of the bill. He called my attention to the fact that it was dangerous to vote against it because of the Italians in my district.

Mr. McCARTHY. The Italians do not own Philadelphia, there are lots of other foreigners in Philadelphia besides Italians. I want to say, Mr. Speaker, that the Italian vote in Philadelphia only controls certain districts, and there are a great many of other nationalities that will have to be interpreted for from time to time. I think this increase is due them.

Mr. DILSHEIMER. Mr. Speaker, in fairness to this bill, you all know I voted against it the first time. When this bill was reconsidered it was my duty as a Philadelphian to ascertain whether the interpreters were actually entitled to this raise. I got in touch with various members of the judiciary, and I must say I was surprised. I found that there were several of the interpreters speaking seven or eight different languages and I was informed that the increase in salary was warranted. These men could go out and get more money than they are getting now from Philadelphia county, and gentlemen, under these conditions, I am satisfied that it is not a mistake to raise these salaries five hundred dollars. Therefore, I ask you to vote for the bill.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, there is an objection on principle to this bill which ought to be clearly settled. There is a city council in Philadelphia. That council has recently been going over the payrolls and recommending increases in salaries. There has been no increase recommended with reference to interpreters. Why, then, should the Legislature be asked to make that increase? These interpreters are under the supervision of the Board of Judges, fifteen in number, who appoint them to their positions. Individual judges have expressed their opinion in favor of the increase, and individual judges have expressed themselves as against the increase, but the Board of Judges has taken no action on the subject. Now, to give an increase when there has been no request made by the official bodies in charge of the government of the city seems to me to be a show of favoritism. What becomes of the other people who have no persons to present their claims, whose salaries are very much below the salaries paid to the court interpreters? I do not think an increase should be granted without a request from the proper body.

Mr. BALDI. Mr. Speaker, to hear the remarks of the gentleman from Philadelphia, it would appear that this salary-raiser would amount to ten or fifteen thousand dollars in the County of Philadelphia. There are five court interpreters included in this bill, which would amount to twenty-five hundred dollars. Now, the court interpreters are called into the different courts of Common Pleas, the coroner's office, the grand jury and the district attorney's office. As Mr. Dilsheimer said, we have men down there speaking five or six or seven languages, and I do not think that three thousand dollars is too much to give men of that type.

Mr. GREEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Baldi.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Baldi, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BALDI. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GREEN. I would like to ask why the sponsor does not offer the amendment in the House instead of waiting until it goes to the Senate?

Mr. BALDI. Mr. Speaker, the amendment is to the title, striking out the county courts in second class counties, that is all there is to it.

On the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 694 as follows:

An Act authorizing and empowering county commissioners with the approval of the court of quarter sessions to enter a bridge on record as a county bridge by resolution without the recommendation of viewers and the approval of a grand jury and of the court of quarter sessions and making it the duty of county commissioners to build such bridges at the expense of the county or counties in or between which they may be located and also making it the duty of county commissioners to erect and construct a new and sufficient bridge to take the place of any county or inter county bridge which has been or which shall hereafter be totally or partially destroyed by some sudden casualty and authorizing county commissioners to erect a new and sufficient bridge to take the place of any existing county or inter county bridge which has become or which hereafter becomes insufficient for any cause to accommodate the public travel at the expense of the county or counties in or between which such bridge may be located without the recommendation of viewers and the approval of the court of quarter sessions and of the grand jury.

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the term "municipal division" as used in this act includes and means townships boroughs and cities

Section 2 Whenever it may be necessary to erect a bridge over a river creek rivulet railway or street railway which crosses a public road street or highway in any county of this Commonwealth the county commissioners of the county in which said bridge may be located or of the counties between which it may be located may with the approval of the court of quarter sessions by resolution duly adopted and spread on their minutes enter such bridge of record as a county bridge without having to secure the recommendation of viewers and the approval of a grand jury whenever in their judgment the cost of erecting such bridge would be a greater expense than it would be reasonable that the municipal division or divisions in or between which such bridge may be located should bear

Section 3 Whenever the county commissioners of any county or counties have entered a bridge on record as a county bridge as provided in section two of this act it shall be the duty of the county commissioners of such county or counties to build such bridge at the expense of the county in which it may be located or when located on the line between two or more counties at the joint expense of said counties

Section 4 Whenever a county bridge in any county of this Commonwealth or an inter-county bridge between two or more counties of this Commonwealth has been or shall hereafter be totally or partially destroyed by some sudden casualty of whatsoever nature or character it shall be the duty of the county commissioners of the county or counties in or between which such bridge may be located with the approval of the court of quarter sessions to erect a new and sufficient bridge to take the place of the one so totally or partially destroyed at the expense of the county in which it may be located or when located on a line between two or more counties at the joint expense of said counties wtihout first securing the recommendation of viewers and the approval of a grand jury

Section 5 Whenever it shall appear to the county commissioners of any county in this Commonwealth that any county bridge heretofore or hereafter to be erected or constructed is not sufficient for any cause to accommodate the public travel or whenever it shall appear to the county commissioners of any two or more adjoining counties that any inter-county bridge heretofore or hereafter to be erected or constructed is not sufficient for any cause to accommodate public travel it shall be lawful for the commissioners of said county or counties as the case may with the approval of the court of quarter sessions to erect and construct at the expense of their respective counties a new and sufficient bridge to take the place of the then existing bridge without first securing the consent of viewers and the approval of a grand jury

Section 6 For the purposes of carrying the provisions of this act into effect the county commissioners of the respective counties of this Commonwealth are hereby authorized to borrow any sum of money not exceeding the constitutional limitations if necessary for the purposes aforesaid at a rate of interest not exceeding the legal rate of interest authorized by law and to issue bonds therefor

Section 7 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 860, as follows:

An Act providing for the appointment of a board of examiners to examine applicants for the office of inspector for the anthracite mines of this Commonwealth prescribing the qualifications defining the powers and duties and fixing the compensation of such examiners providing for the appointment and removal of inspectors of anthracite mines prescribing their qualifications and regulating their salaries and term of office and abolishing the terms of office of the present mine inspectors of the anthracite mines

ARTICLE I

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the Governor shall during the month of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one and every four years thereafter appoint five citizens of this Commonwealth residents of the anthracite region to compose the Anthracite Mine Inspectors' Examining Board who shall examine applicants for the office of mine inspector in the anthracite region of this Commonwealth Two of the members of the board shall be mining engineers who have had experience in the anthracite mines of Pennsylvania and three of the members shall be coal miners in actual practice who have had at least five years' practical experience as miners in the anthracite mines of this Commonwealth in which explosive gas is liberated

Appointees to the examining board shall be men of good repute and at least thirty years of age

The members of said board shall each receive the sum of ten dollars a day for each day actually employed not exceeding forty days in all and all necessary expenses incurred in carrying out the provisions of this act which shall be paid out of the State Treasury on warrant of the Auditor General issued upon presentation of vouchers properly made out and sworn to by each member of the board and approved by the Chief of the Department of Mines The board is hereby authorized to engage the services of a clerk who shall be a stenographer and whose compensation shall be the same as that of the members of the board

Any vacancy that may occur in the membership of the board shall be filled by appointment of the Governor according to the provisions of this section

Section 2 The said examining board shall meet in the city of Wilkes-Barre on the second Tuesday in September following its appointment to prepare questions and formulate rules to be used in conducting and governing the examination provided there be a vacancy in the office of inspector The members of the board after being duly organized shall each take and subscribe to before any officer authorized to administer the same the following oath namely

"I do solemly swear that I will perform the duties of examiner of applicants for the office of inspector to the best of my ability and that in recommending or rejecting said applicants I will be governed by the evidence of their qualifications to fill the position and not by any consideration of political or personal favor and that I will certify all applicants who may be found qualified and no others according to the true intent and meaning of the law"

The oaths of the members of the examining board shall be filed in the Department of Mines

Section 3 On the fourth Tuesday of September public notice having been given for two weeks prior thereto in two newspapers published in the district where a vacancy exists the board shall meet again in the city of Wilkes-Barre to examine applicants for the office of inspector whose qualifications shall be certified to the board and be as follows They shall be citizens of this Commonwealth and residents of the anthracite region of temperate habits of good repute of personal integrity in good physical condition and not under thirty or over fifty years of age Provided however that any person who is now serving as inspector under the provisions of the act of June eighth one thousand nine hundred and one entitled "An Act amending article two of an act entitled 'An Act to provide for the health and safety of persons employed in and about the anthracite coal mines of Pennsylvania and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith' approved the second day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one" and its amendments shall be eligible for appointment even if beyond fifty years of age if in good physical condition They shall have a comprehensive knowledge of the different system of working and ventilating coal mines and shall have had at least ten years' practical experience in the anthracite mines of this Commonwealth five years of which shall be as coal miners in the anthracite mines of this Commonwealth They shall have had practical experience with explosive gas dangerous and noxious gases generally found in coal mines and shall have a general knowledge of mines mining and machinery and of the chemistry of gases generally found in coal mines They shall be conversant with the work of first aid corps and with the work and requirements of the rescue corps They shall be conversant with the science and use of electricity as applied to coal mines and shall have sufficient knowledge of the science of mining engineering to enable them to understand and read the mine workings of any mine as shown on maps presented at the examination and to make a cross section of any mine from said maps when required by the examining board They shall give evidence of such theoretical as well as practical knowledge and general intelligence respecting mines and mining and the working and ventilation of mines as will satisfy the board of their capability and fitness for the important duties imposed upon the inspectors

Section 4 The examination shall be in writing and the applicants who have made an average of at least ninety per centum shall be deemed successful Provided however that those now acting as inspectors in the anthracite mines of this Commonwealth and who have served in such capacity for four years and have passed one examination as required by the provisions of the act of June eighth one thousand nine hundred and one entitled "An Act amending article two of an act entitled 'An Act to provide for the health and safety of persons employed in and about the anthracite coal mines of Pennsylvania and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith approved the second day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one" and its amendments may continue in office without further examination and are eligible for appointment under the provisions of this act

Section 5 The manuscripts and all other papers of the applicants in the examination together with the tally sheets and the correct solution of each question as prepared by the examination board shall be filed in the Department of Mines The examining board or at least four members thereof shall certify to the Governor and also to the Chief of the Department of Mines the names and percentages of all successful applicants who are properly qualified under the provisions of this act to fill the office of inspector A certificate of qualification prepared by the Chief of the Department of Mines shall be issued to each successful applicant. A certificate so issued shall remain in full force for a period of four years only unless the holder of same has served one full term as mine inspector in the anthracite mines of this Commonwealth in which case the certificate becomes permanent

Section 6 It shall be obligatory on the Chief of the Department of Mines to issue a certificate of qualification to each inspector now acting in the anthracite region of this Commonwealth and who has acted as such continuously for four years A similar certificte shall be issued to the Chief of the Department of Mines The mark or per centum to appear on each individual certificate shall be the same as that appearing on the last certificate obtained prior to the passage of this act by the individual inspectors as required by the provisions of the act of June eighth one thousand nine hundred and one entitled "An Act amending article two of an act entitled 'An Act to provide for the health and safety of persons employed in and about the anthracite coal mines of Pennsylvania and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith' approved the second day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one" and its amendments The certificate issued as required by this section shall be of a permanent nature and the holders of such certificates shall not be required to submit to further examinations and such certificates shall be issued immediately upon the passage of this act and the percentages of each inspector shall be certified to the Governor

Section 7 In order to make uniform the method of selecting mine inspectors for this Commonwealth the term of office of inspectors of mines in the anthracite coal mines of Pennsylvania as heretofore existing shall upon the passage of this act be terminated and the Governor shall proceed to fill the offices of inspector of mines in the anthracite coal region of this Commonwealth as provided for in this act

Section 8 If at any time a vacancy shall exist in the office of mine inspector in the anthracite region of Pennsylvania the Governor shall from the names certified to him by the examining board or by the Chief of the Department of Mines commission the person having the highest percentage whose commission shall be for four years or until removed as provided by section fifteen of this act

Section 9 When a vacancy occurs in the office of inspector by death or otherwise the Governor shall commission for the unexpired term from the names of the successful applicants on file in the Department of Mines the person having the highest percentage in the examination

When the applicants who have received an average of at least ninety per centum shall be exhausted the Governor shall cause the examining board to meet for a special examination Special examinations shall be conducted in the same manner as required in this act for the conducting of regular examinations

Section 10 The salary of the inspectors shall be four thousand eight hundred dollars ($4,800) a year to be paid monthly by the State Treasurer on warrant of the Auditor General issued upon presentation of voucher approved by the Chief of the Department of Mines Each inspector may also incur traveling and such other expenses as may be necessary for the proper discharge of his duties which shall be paid quarterly by the State Treasurer on warrant of the Auditor General issued upon presentation of vouchers made out and sworn to by the inspector and approved by the Chief of the Department of Mines

Section 11 Each inspector shall before entering upon the discharge of his duties give a bond to the Commonwealth in the sum of five thousand dollars with sureties to be approved by a judge of the court of common pleas of the district in which he resides conditioned for the faithful discharge of his duties and shall take an oath or make affirmation that he will discharge his duties with impartiality and fidelity

Section 12 The Chief of the Department of Mines shall have authority to procure for the inspectors on their request furniture instruments chemicals typewriters stationery and all other necessary supplies which shall be paid for by the State Treasurer on warrant of the Auditor General issued upon presentation of vouchers approved by the Chief of the Department of Mines All furniture instruments plans books memoranda notes and other materials pertaining to the office of the inspector shall be the property of the State and shall be delivered by the inspector to his successor in office

Section 13 In case the inspector becomes incapacitated to perform the duties of his office or is granted a leave of absence by the Chief of the Department of Mines for thirty days or more it shall be the duty of the Governor at the request of the Chief of the Department of Mines to appoint temporarily to the office a person on the eligible list of applicants filed in the Department of Mines The temporary inspector shall act until the regular inspector is able to resume the duties of his office and shall be paid in the same manner as hereinbefore provided for the payment of the regular inspector

Section 14 No inspector under this act shall act as manager of any coal mine or as agent or as mining engineer for any coal company or be interested in the operation of any anthracite coal mines in this Commonwealth

Section 15 Upon a petition signed by not less than fifteen reputable citizens who shall be miners or operators of mines and with the affidavit of one or more of said petitioners attached setting forth that any inspector of mines is holding office illegally or is neglectful of or is incompetent to perform the duties of his office or that he is guilty of malfeasance in office or upon petition of the Chief of the Department of Mines setting forth any of the above charges the court of common pleas in the county in which the inspector is acting and is a resident shall issue a citation in the name of the Commonwealth to the said inspector to appear at not less than ten days' notice on a day fixed before said court and the court shall then proceed to inquire into and investigate the allegations of the petitioners If said charges are not sustained and the court believes there was sufficient ground for said charges the costs shall be placed on the county

If the court finds that the said inspector is incompetent to perform the duties of his office or that he is guilty of malfeasance in office the court shall declare the office of said inspector vacant and shall so certify to the Governor who shall proceed in compliance with the provisions of this act to fill the vacancy

The cost of said investigation shall if the charges are sustained be imposed upon the inspector

Section 16 This act shall go into effect from the first day of May Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one

Section 17 Any person failing to comply with the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be sentenced to pay a fine of three hundred dollars or undergo imprisonment in the county jail for a period of thirty days or both at the discretion of the court

Section 18 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. STINEMAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until tomorrow morning at 10.30 o'clock.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 5.45 P. M. until Wednesday, April 13, 1921, at 10.30 o'clock A. M.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, April 12, 1921.

The House met at 11 o'clock A. M.
The SPEAKER (Robert S. Spangler), in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. W. H. Feldman, offered the following prayer:

O Lord God Almighty, sixty years ago to-day smouldering wrath burst forth in fury, and the great, red tide of fratricidal warfare overtook our nation and drenched it from end to end; and we to-day contemplate with horror the havoc that it wrought.

Oh, grant unto us that we may not be without the mind and spirit that shall profit by mistakes. Help us to realize that with Thee there is law, irrefutable, inevitable and unrelenting—the great law of retribution; and therefore, keep us, we pray Thee, from harboring hate and grudge, knowing that it shall strike back on our own heads.

May we never be guilty of injustice toward weaker nations, and never exercise brutality because of power. Make us slow at all times to give way to wrath, and help us to deal according to the higher laws, not of man, but of God, in all the actions of our nation. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings, when, on the motion of Mr. McKim, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal was approved.

An Act to amend sections four and six of a supplement to an act approved the twenty-sixth day of April one thousand nine hundred and eleven (one thousand nine hundred and eleven Pamphlet Laws eighty-two) entitled "A supplement to an act entitled 'An act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations' approved April twenty-nine Anno Domini eighteen hundred and seventy-four providing for the incorporation of trustees appointed or to be appointed under the terms of any will deed grant or gift, creating a trust or trusts for the benefit of the people of any incorporated city of this Commonwealth for the advancement of learning, science, music, art or of any one or more of said purposes in which representatives of said city may have part in the management with power to confer degrees in art pure and applied science, philosophy, literature, painting, music, medicine law and theology and for the supervision and regulation of the same" conferring upon the State Council of Education powers and duties heretofore vested in the College and University Council.

RESOLUTION NO. 8.

Mr. VICKERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time, resolution No. 8, File Folio No. 3893, for the purpose of amendment.

The SPEAKER. The resolution will be read by the Clerk.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

Whereas at each session of the Legislature bills are introduced for the purpose of providing pensions for State county and municipal officers and employes upon their retirement from office many of these bills imposing a mandatory obligation upon the State counties and municipalities and

Whereas the Legislature cannot during the busy weeks of its session ascertain the conditions and facts surrounding these demands and deal fairly with those who would receive the benefit of legislation of this class and also with the taxpayer whose money is appropriated and

Whereas the existing pension laws for State county and municipal officers and employes differ greatly as to conditions under which benefits can be granted and as to the methods by which the necessary revenues are obtained and

Whereas it is the sense of the members of this Legislature that all public pension funds should be placed on a sound uniform and equitable basis under a fixed State policy therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate occur) That a commission of five members be appointed two by the President of the Senate and three by the Speaker of the House to be known as the "Public Service Pension Commission" to make a survey of all pension and retirement funds for the officers and employes of the State and the various county and municipal governments to investigate to question of the desirability of establishing a uniform equitable system of retiring State county and municipal employes and whether a proper standard can be established for fixing the basis of such pensions to the end that all shall be dealt with fairly the said commission to report their findings together with any recommendations thereon at the next session of the Legislature and

That the members of said commission shall serve without compensation and the expenses of said commission shall be limited to five thousand ($5,000) dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary and that the same be provided for in the next general appropriation bill

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. VICKERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend page 2, line 7, by striking out the word "to" before "question" and inserting in lieu thereof "the"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the resolution as amended lie over for printing.

NAYS—1.

Alexander,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative, and the amendments were concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF RESOLUTION.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 6, 1921.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed the following resolution of the Senate and House of Representatives recalling from the Governor House Bill No. 253, File Folio 943, entitled:

"Resolved (if the Senate concur), That House Bill No. 253, File Folio No. 943, entitled 'An act to amend an act approved the fourteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws three hundred twelve), entitled "An act providing a system of government for boroughs, and revising, amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs' ", be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment".

Accordingly, the original bill is herewith returned.

WM. C. SPROUL.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. KOOSER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 253 passed finally be reconsidered.

Mr. SINCLAIR. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. KOOSER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. SINCLAIR. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. KOOSER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend Section 1, page 3, line 2 by striking out the words "consent thereto upon the record by such intervening taxpayers", and inserting in place thereof the following:

Without notice to such intervening taxpayer and opportunity for him to be heard.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER.

The SPEAKER. The Chair at this time would like to call the attention of the House to a few rules that have been unobserved, particularly during debate, recently. The Chair would request the members to observe the courtesies and amenities call for by the rules of the House and general parliamentary law. We are now starting on the home stretch of the session, and there is apt, probably, to occur some bitterness in the course of debate. There certainly will be very considerable debate during the next three weeks and for this reason the Chair will call the attention of the members to a few rules which he will read over hastily and which he trusts the members will observe.

Rule 12. When a member is about to speak in debate, or to communicate any matter to the House, he shall rise, and respectfully address himself to "Mr. Speaker," confining his remarks to the subject before the House, and avoiding personal reflections.

Rule 15. No member, when speaking, shall be interrupted except by a call to order by the Speaker, or by a member through the Speaker, or by a member to explain, or by a motion for the previous question; nor shall any member be referred to by name in debate, unless for transgression of the rules of the House, and then by the Speaker only

Mr. Reed in his parliamentary rules states as follows: Under the paragraph of "Debate and Decorum," among them "is the requirement that the members shall never address any one but the presiding officer. He must not allude to or use any personal expression but address him by some descriptive expression." The proper method is to use the term, "The gentleman from Fayette," or "the gentleman from Allegheny," and not "Mr. So-and-So." In view of the debate that occurred last evening, the Chair might also refer to the fact that it is out of place to use epithets and call a gentleman a "reformer" or to use any other epithets or personal expressions that might lead to acrimony or bitterness of feeling. The Chair will, therefore, request the members to observe these small courtsies and if that is done, he feels that the harmony of the session will not be unduly disturbed.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 102.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 102, File Folio 3917, entitled:

An Act abolishing the system requiring approval by the grand jury of actions affecting county bridges was defeated on final passage on Thursday, April 7, 1921, be reconsidered.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, this is the bill which was defeated the other day, which takes away from the Grand Juries of the county the power to recommend the building of public or county bridges. You will remember, probably, that I addressed you then stating that at the present time a petition is presented to the court for the building of a bridge and that petition is then referred to the grand jury. First, the grand jury makes the report or the second grand jury can make it. Instead of submitting it to the grand jury, it shall be submitted to a jury of as many as three members. The grand jury proceedings, as you all know, have been in vogue for many years and I cannot see any complaint against the system. In other words, at least thirty-six laymen of your county pass on the subject of that bridge; many times forty-eight of your laymen of your county pass on it; men who are disinterested and have an interest in the welfare of the county, and there is no expense except their day's salary and the expenses to take them to the site of the bridge to view it. It seems to me that the counties do not want the change and why no stick to the old grand jury idea of bridges. This bill was defeated the other day and in my estimation there is no use taking up the time of the House to reconsider it.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I have changed my mind on this bill since it was defeated and I shall be glad to vote for it now, because I understand that in some of the county districts three months elapse between the serving of one jury and the next and this act relates to rebuilding bridges. If there is a bridge that happens to tumble down it would not be practicable to wait three months for its consideration and it seems to me that is so long that it may cause serious inconvenience.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, there is a remedy in the case of an emergency such as the gentleman from Philadelphia refers to. The commissioners may build a temporary bridge. In other words, when this act was first passed bridges were of quite small importance, generally, being mostly wooden structures which did not cost much. At the present time the structures go into thousands of dollars and the county commissioners are elected for four years. At the end of four years new ones come in and it is more or less of a political condition. I think the safety of the grand jury is the best for all.

Mr. BOLARD. Mr. Speaker, I represent one of the largest farming districts in this State, and we have no need for the amendment of this law. We think the old one has worked out all right.

Mr. CHARLES P. DEWEY. Mr. Speaker, when this bill was brought up it was recommended by the commissioners' association at Wilkes-Barre, and I think it ought to be voted on again.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The Speaker declared "The 'ayes' appear to have it."

Whereupon, a division was called for, and seventy-nine gentlemen voting in the affirmative and seventy-three in the negative, the question was determined in the affirmative, and the motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 382, as follows:

An Act concerning conditional sales of chattels attached or to be attached to realty and regulating the recording and effect thereof and providing remedies and penalties

Definitions

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That in this act "chattels" means all chattels attached or to be attached to realty the property in which chattels is not to vest in the buyer until performance of the condition.

"Conditional sale" means any contract in writing for the sale of chattels under which possession is delivered to the buyer and the property in the chattels is to vest in the buyer at a subsequent time upon the payment of part or all of the price or upon the performance of any other condition or the happening of any contingency

"Performance of the condition" means the occurrence of the event upon which the property in the chattels is to vest in the buyer whether such event is the performance of an act by the buyer or the happening of a contingency

"Buyer" means the person who buys the chattels covered by the conditional sale or any legal successor in interest of such person

"Seller" means the person who sells the chattels covered by the conditional sale or any legal successor in interest of such person

"Person" includes individuals partnerships corporations and any other associations

"Recording district" means the subdivision of the state in which conditional sale contracts or statements or copies thereof are required by law to be filed or recorded

Conditional Sales Valid Except as Otherwise Provided

Section 2 Every provision in a conditional sale contract reserving property in the seller after possession of the chattels is delivered to the buyer shall be valid as to all persons except as hereinafter otherwise provided

Conditional Sales Void as to Certain Persons

Section 3 First Every provision in a conditional sale contract reserving property in the seller shall be void as to any purchaser from or creditor of the buyer who without notice of such provision purchases the chattels or acquires by attachment or levy a lien upon them before they are attached to the realty and before the contract or a verified statement thereof shall be recorded as provided in section four of this act unless such contract or statement is so recorded within thirty days after complete delivery of the chattels under the conditional sale contract

Second in cases where the chattels are conditionally sold to a contractor and the owner of the realty to which they are to be attached has not assented to the reservation of property in the chattels such reservation as to any chattels which shall be so attached shall be void as against such owner unless the conditional sale contract or a verified statement thereof shall be recorded as required in section four before the chattels are attached to the realty

Third As against a subsequent purchaser subsequent mortgagee or other subsequent encumbrancer of the realty for value and without notice of the reservation of property in the chattels such reservation shall be void as to any chattels attached to the realty unless the conditional sale contract or a verified statement thereof shall be recorded as required in section four before such purchase is made or such mortgage is given or such encumbrance is effected "Subsequent" as used in this paragraph refers to the time of attaching the chattels to the realty

Fourth As against a prior mortgagee or other prior encumbrancer of the realty who has not assented to the reservation of property in the chattels attached thereto such chattels shall not be severable and removable unless the seller shall furnish or tender to such mortgagee or encumbrancer a good and sufficient bond conditioned for restoring the realty to the same condition as if said chattels had not been attached thereto "Prior" as used in this paragraph refers to the time of attaching the chattels to the realty

Recording

Section 4 First The conditional sale contract or a verified statement thereof shall be recorded in the mortgage record book in the office of the recorder of deeds of the county wherein the realty affected is situate and shall be indexed in the name of the buyer in the column for mortgagors and in the name of the seller in the column for mortgagees

Second Such contract in order to entitle it to be recorded must be verified by the oath or affirmation of either the seller or the buyer or the agent or attorney of either to the effect (1) that it is an existing bona fide contract (2) the amounts and terms of payments remaining unpaid (3) and if the contract does not contain a sufficient description for the identification of the realty affected the verification must also contain such description

Third Such statement in order to entitle it to be recorded must set forth (1) the date of the contract (2) the names of the seller and the buyer (3) a description sufficient for identification of the chattels and the realty affected (4) a copy of the condition or conditions upon performance of which the property in the chattels is to vest in the buyer including the amount and terms of payments remaining unpaid and (5) that it is an existing bona fide contract all of which must be verified by the oath or affirmation of either the seller or the buyer or the agent or attorney of either

Fees

Section 5 The fees for the recording indexing and other services in connection with conditional sale contracts shall be the same as for like services in connection with mortgages

Railroad Equipment or Rolling Stock

Section 6 This act shall not apply to any conditional sale of railroad or street or interurban railway equipment or rolling stock

Release or Satisfaction

Section 7 Upon performance of the conditions it shall be the duty of the seller to release or satisfy the conditional sale contract of record or to execute acknowledge and deliver to the buyer a release or satisfaction showing that the conditions have been performed and the recording officer upon presentation of such release or satisfaction shall record the same and note the release or satisfaction on the margin of the page where the contract or verified statement thereof is recorded and also mark it satisfied on the index For failure or refusal by the seller for ten days after demand by the buyer to perform this duty the seller shall forfeit to the buyer five dollars and be liable for all damages suffered

Prohibition of Severance Removal Sale Et Cetera

Section 8 Prior to the performance of the conditions the buyer shall not sever the chattels from the realty nor remove sell pledge mortgage or otherwise dispose of them or of his interest in them without the written consent of the seller For any breach of this provision the seller may retake possession of all the chattels covered by the conditional sale contract and deal with them as provided in sections eleven twelve and thirteen

Recording on Removal

Section 9 When prior to the performance of the conditions the chattels are removed from a recording district in this or any other state to another recording district in this state and there attached or about to be attached to realty such contract or verified statement thereof may be recorded in such last mentioned district upon compliance with the requirements of section four and with like effect

Retaking Possession

Section 10 When the buyer shall be in default in the payment of any sum due under the contract or in the performance of any other condition which the contract requires him to perform in order to obtain the property in the chattels or in the performance of any promise the breach of which is by the contract expressly made a ground for the retaking of the chattels the seller may retake possession of and deal with the chattels as provided in sections eleven twelve and thirteen provided the seller not more than forty nor less than twenty days prior to the retaking shall have served upon the buyer personally or by registered mail a notice of intention to retake the chattels on account of the buyer's default Said notice shall also state the default and the period at the end of which the chattels will be retaken and if the buyer shall perform during said period the obligations in which he made the said default the chattels shall not be retaken

Resale by Seller

Section 11 Within sixty days after chattels are retaken under any of the provisions of this act the seller may and if at least twenty-five per centum of the purchase price of the chattels shall have been paid he shall advertise and sell them at public auction in the recording district wherein they were located at the time of the retaking unless the buyer before the day fixed for the resale shall redeem them by performance of the conditions and payment of the costs and expenses of the severing retaking removing keeping storing and advertising Such advertisement shall be for at least ten days by five or more notices posted in different public places in the recording district where the chattels are to be sold and by publication in a newspaper published or having general circulation in said district The seller may bid for and become the purchaser of the chattels at such resale

Proceeds of Resale

Section 12 The proceeds of the resale shall be applied (1) to the payment of the costs and expenses thereof (2) to the payment of the costs and expenses of the severing retaking removing keeping and storing of the chattels and (3) to the satisfaction of the amount remaining unpaid under the contract Any sum remaining after the satisfaction of such claims shall be paid to the buyer

Deficiency on Resale

Section 13 If the proceeds of the resale are not sufficient to defray the costs and expenses provided for in section twelve and to satisfy the amount remaining unpaid under the contract the seller may recover the deficiency from the buyer or from any one who has succeeded to the obligations of the buyer

Election of Remedies

Section 14 Neither the acceptance of notes or other obligations or securities nor the bringing of an action by the seller for the whole or any part of the price nor attachment or other proceeding by the seller against the chattels or any portion thereof nor the prosecution of such remedies short of a sale of the chattels thereunder shall be deemed inconsistent with a later retaking of the chattels as provided in sections eight and ten At any time during the period allowed for filing a mechanic's lien if the chattels shall not have been severed from the realty the seller may waive the reservation of property in the chattels and dismiss all actions and procedings founded thereon and file such lien in the same manner and with like effect as if the sale had been absolute instead of conditional The remedies provided in this act shall not affect the jurisdiction of courts of equity for foreclosure of lien or other purposes

Risk of Loss and Injury

Section 15 After delivery of the chattels to the buyer the risk of loss or destruction and of injury to them shall rest upon the buyer except that after the chattels are retaken by the seller and until resold as provided herein it shall be his duty to exercise reasonable care for their safety

Laws Repealed

Section 16 Except so far as it is applicable to conditional sales made prior to the passage of this act the act entitled "An act defining conditional sales and regulating the recording and effect thereof and providing penalties" which became a law on the seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred fifteen (Pamphlet Laws page eight hundred and sixty-six) is intended to be supplied by this act and is therefore hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

The fourth section was read as follows:

Section 4 That section seven of said act which now reads as follows

"Section 7 The said court of quarter sessions shall hear petitions from residents of the ward borough or township in addition to that of the applicant in favor of and remonstrance against the application for such license and in all cases shall refuse the same whenever in the opinion of the said court having due regard to the number and character of the petitioners for and against such application such license is not necessary for the accommodation of the public and entertainment of strangers or travelers or that the applicant or applicants is or are not fit persons to whom such license should be granted and upon sufficient cause being shown or proof being made to the said court that the party holding a license has violated any law of this Commonwealth relating to the sale of liquors the court of quarter sessions shall upon notice being given to the person so licensed revoke the said license" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 7 The said court of quarter sessions shall hear petitions from residents of the ward borough or township in addition to that of the applicant in favor of and remonstrance against the application for such license and in all cases shall refuse the same whenever in the opinion of the said court having due regard to the number and character of the petitioners for and against such application the applicant or applicants is or are not fit persons to whom such license should be granted or the place applied for is not a fit place and upon sufficient cause being shown or proof being made to the said court that the party holding a license has violated any law of this Commonwealth relating to the sale of liquors the court of quarter sessions shall upon notice being given to the person so licensed revoke the said license

On the question.

Mr. HORNE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend section 4, page ten, after line twenty eighth, as follows: But the granting of a license shall be at the discretion of the court. Any license so granted must have the consent of all Judges of quarter session court in such district

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. DITHRICH. As I understood this amendment, Mr. Speaker, it provides that the granting of license must be agreed on by all the judges of the courts of quarter sessions. Now, I do not know the practice in some of the other counties, but I do know in Allegheny county there are fourteen common pleas judges, and certain ones are assigned by the president judge of the court of common pleas to hold license court. If the amendment were put in the form that all of the judges sitting in that license court would have to agree, then I could see no objection, but in the present form of the amendment, which requires that all of the judges of the quarter sessions court,—and there may be five or six judges assigned for the term during which license court is being held, some being in oyer and terminer and some in the criminal court, while the others are in the license court,—I think under these conditions that the amendment would be highly impracticable in Allegheny county.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. May I add a word in agreement with what the gentleman from Allegheny has said, because I know that we have in our great county of Philadelphia certain judges assigned every year to hold license court, and if it is necessary to obtain the consent of the entire group of judges in the license court, I can readily see where nothing practicable will be accomplished, if it ought to be accomplished. It seems to me that since this bill was prepared and passed upon by the Attorney General's office to meet all requirements, that it is unnecessary to have any amendments to the bill at this time.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I want to add just a word to what has been said by the gentleman from Allegheny and the gentleman from Philadelphia. Outside of the counties of the first and second class all of the judges are judges of the courts of oyer and terminer and general all delivery and the court of common pleas. In some of the counties, for instance, Delaware county, two sit, and hereafter three will sit. In some of the counties five judges will sit in the granting of licenses, and hereafter, if this amendment prevails, one man out of those five judges may for some whim of his own, defeat the granting of that license. It is an unusual thing, an unfair thing, and I cannot see why it should be done in this case.

Mr. HORNE. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the references made to this amendment, I want to say that it is the practice of the courts now In the courts of quarter session, if a license is to be granted, the judges granting that license shall be of one mind, and if not that license shall not be granted. My amendment is not to tie up the granting of licenses, but merely to carry out the rule that the court shall agree on the granting of licenses, and that shall be at the discretion of the court.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Cambria, the courts have held where two judges are assigned to license court and they fail to agree, the license cannot be granted; but if three are sitting and two agree, of course the majority rules. As I have stated, there are some counties where two are sitting, and that rule will hold. In counties where two or more are sitting, it will prove impracticable, and it would impose a hardship on them. I do not think that was contemplated by the Attorney General's office when the bill was prepared. I therefore hope that the House will vote this amendment down, because it cannot serve any good purpose to the bill at all, it will only hurt the bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The fifth, sixth, seventh, eight and ninth sections were separately read and agreed to as follows:

Section 5 That section eight of said act which as last amended by an act approved the twenty-sixth day of February Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and nineteen entitled "An act to amend section eight of the act approved the thirteenth day of May one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven (Pamphlet Laws one hundred eight) entitled 'An act to restrain and regulate the sale of vinous and spirituous malt or brewed liquors or any admixtures thereof" now reads as follows

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. HORNE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Section ten, page twenty, after line twenty-nine by adding "all persons holding a license to sell liquor shall close his or her or their place of business on election day."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I would object to that on the ground that no person under this act can sell liquor because it is contrary to the Constitution.

Mr. HORNE. Mr. Speaker, it so happens in this act that the word "liquor" is defined, and I think the gentleman who has just spoken knows that very well. It does refer to liquors in this bill, and defines what they are. I have made no mistake on that line.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, since liquors are described in this act as being non-intoxicating, why should a place be closed on election day when the owner sells nothing but non-intoxicating drinks? I cannot see any particular reason for this. I could, under the old act, when liquor was in existence, see why these places should be closed on election day, but since they sell nothing but non-intoxicating drinks, I cannot see why they should be closed.

Mr. HORNE. Mr. Speaker, I am aware of the innocence of the gentleman who just spoke, and I also know that it is true, and the members of this House are perfectly aware of the fact, that there are sometimes sold drinks that contain more than one-half of one per cent., and on account of these violations, the same violations might be made on election day if these places were kept open.

I can see no objection to this by any one who is sincerely interested in the enforcement of law, and I can see no reason for the position of those who are opposed to the enforcement of law.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I feel that the House is entitled to a brief explanation. My opposition with respect to this particular amendment is that it ought to be adopted. As the sponsor of this bill, I would favor it. This bill makes it unlawful to sell to a minor or to sell to a man of known intemperate habits or to sell on Sunday. Personally, I think that does not go very much farther than to prescribe that the place is to be kept closed on Sunday and that they shall not sell to a known intoxicant or to a minor or to one who is known to have intemperate habits, and that it shall also provide for the various safeguards that might be thrown around such a person or a congregation or the presence of it in such a place. We know that it is provided that they shall not sell intoxicating liquor, but in this particular instance I will fully agree with the amendment. Before I leave you, however, I want to fully explain the reason why the Attorney General of this State put that provision in the bill. I do that now as his humble agent on the floor of the House. What I have said before is a matter of my own personal conviction and desire. I want to indicate to you the reasons why the Attorney General does not specify in this bill that the place shall be closed on election day. Mr. Alter has said that it is clearly provided that any one holding a license shall sell anything but a non-intoxicating alcoholic drink. Therefore, why close the place on election day, making the reply that there are places where people are congregated on election day and that if we throw open wide the sale of less than one-half per cent. alcoholic content beverage, and that pool rooms and other places frequented by young men and older men on election day might also be made the place where men would congregate and distinctly the statement is this—remember, I am communicating to you the Attorney General's version. His statement is that because saloons or the places where drink was sold were closed on election day, they were closed because of fear of disturbance; because of the likelihood of men becoming boisterous through their drinking. And because of that, the business places where intoxicants may be sold were closed and therefore there is no reason for providing that the place shall not be closed on election day. I simply say this, personally, that I shall vote to close the place on election day.

Mr. McCARTHY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Horne, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HORNE. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. McCARTHY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman what kind of a place would he close?

Mr. HORNE. We would close saloons.

Mr. McCARTHY. Licensed places?

Mr. HORNE. Yes, sir, or any other places.

Mr. McCARTHY. There is no provision in this bill for any other places with the exception of licensed places.

Mr. HORNE. I am aware of that; they are places that I would close.

Mr. McCARTHY. Why not put that provision in?

Mr. HORNE. Because it does not affect this bill.

Mr. McCARTHY. Have you ever been in Philadelphia?

Mr. HORNE. Yes, sir.

Mr. McCARTHY. Have you ever been in Philadelphia on election day?

Mr. HORNE. I was never in Philadelphia on election day.

Mr. McCARTHY. You were there on Sunday?

Mr. HORNE. Yes, sir.

Mr. McCARTHY. Do you know of any other places open except saloons?

Mr. HORNE. I didn't hunt any; perhaps you would know better than I.

Mr. McCARTHY. It would be better for a fellow if he didn't have a license.

Mr. HORNE. I am not arguing on that point.

Mr. McCARTHY. A fellow without a license can run his place, while a man with a license must close. That is a terrible thing for the man who holds a license; he pays for a license and has to close on election day and the other fellow who does not pay a license can open up his place and run it on election day, according to your amendment, and that is all wrong.

Mr. HORNE. It depends on what he sells.

Mr. McCARTHY. You know what we are talking about.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me, gentlemen of the House, that this bill that is known as the Governor's and Attorney General's bill, is one that has had serious thought and consideration; it has had the attention of the two great powers of force in this Commonwealth. They have reasoned together since the session first opened until today and we have the product of that reason before us I am perfectly satisfied if that is the product of the Attorney General and the Governor of this Commonwealth as it has been placed before us to not amend one single word or sentence in this bill. My reason for making that assertion is that this power is the power that will have to enforce the provisions of this bill. It will be the power that will have to go before the people of this Commonwealth with such protection as the people are desirous of having. Therefore, I shall oppose any amendment to this bill unless it is directed particularly from the Attorney General's Department of this Commonwealth. If they are willing to bear the responsibility I feel that the members of this House ought to be willing and willingly let them bear the responsibility in carrying into actual force the provisions of this bill or the enforcement of this act.

Mr. HORNE. Mr. Speaker, it is not my purpose to annoy the Attorney General or anybody else in this House. There are executive functions, there are legislative functions, and there are judicial functions in this State, and I believe each one is largely separate from the other. In my opinion it is not the business of any department to formulate the legislation that comes before this House nor to tell us that we shall vote for or not vote for it. Personally when I vote for or against a measure I must stand on my own feet and my own judgment before my own people, and assume full responsibility for the way I vote. Therefore I do not think that the Governor or the Attorney General should be dragged into this amendment. I appeal to your judgment to be the court of last resort on this measure. If men will violate the liquor laws of the State of Pennsylvania might they not do so on election day, and if that is so is it wise to have the saloons open on election day? That is my appeal to you.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

It was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The eleventh section was read and agreed to as follows:

Section 11 That section eighteen of said act which now reads as follows

"Section 18 Any house room or place hotel inn or tavern where vinous spirituous malt or brewed liquors are sold offered for sale drank or given away in violation of any law of this Commonwealth shall be held and declared a nuisance and shall be abated by proceedings at law or equity All expenses connected with such proceedings including a counsel fee of twenty dollars for the counsel of complaint shall be paid by defendant or defendants" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 18 Any house room or place hotel inn or tavern where vinous spirituous malt or brewed liquors or intoxicating liquors are sold offered for sale drank or given away in violation of any law of this Commonwealth shall be held and declared a nuisance and shall be abated by proceedings at law or equity All expenses connected with such proceedings including a counsel fee of twenty dollars for the counsel of complaint shall be paid by defendant or defendants

The twelfth section was read as follows:

Section 12 That the said act is hereby further amended by adding thereto the following sections

Section 20 That from and after the passage of this act any person who shall manufacture sell offer for sale furnish transport import export or possess any intoxicating liquor within the State for beverage purposes except as hereinafter provided shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five thousand dollars or undergo an imprisonment of not more than three years or both at the discretion of the court

Section 21 Proof of the manufacture sale offering for sale furnishing transportation possession exportation or importation of any intoxicating liquors shall raise a presumption that the same was for beverage purposes and the burden of proving the contrary shall rest upon the accused but this presumption shall not apply to medicines or anything unfit for beverage purposes or to extracts ordinarily used for culinary purposes And this act shall not apply to such extracts when intended to be used for flavoring anything which when so flavored shall not violate the provisions of this act

Section 22 It shall not be unlawful to possess intoxicating liquor in one's private dwelling provided such liquor is for use only for the personal consumption of the owner thereof and his family residing in such dwelling and of his bona fide guests when entertained by him therein which entertainment shall not be deemed an unlawful furnishing The term "private dwelling" shall be construed not only in its ordinary sense but also to include the room or rooms used and occupied not transiently but solely as a residence in an apartment house hotel or boarding house

Section 23 Any premises for which a license is granted under this act shall be subject at all times to inspection by authority of any judge of the court which has granted such license or of the district attorney of such county or of the mayor of any city wherein such premises are located for the purposes of ascertaining whether any intoxicating liquor is kept upon said premises and any such liquor found thereon may be seized and used as evidence of the violation of this act

Section 24 Nothing in this act shall affect any case in which it shall appear that the crime therein charged was committed prior to the date of the approval hereof but such offenders may be prosecuted and punished as if this act had not been passed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend section 12, page 21, line 12, by striking out the word "Proof" and inserting in lieu thereof "When proof"

Amend section 12, page 21, lines 14 and 15 by striking out the words "shall raise a presumption" and insert in lieu thereof "has been given in evident the jury may infer"

Amend section 12, page 21, lines 15, 16 and 17 by striking out the following: "and the burden of proving the contrary shall rest upon the accused"

Amend section 12, page 21, line 17 by striking out the word "presumption" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "inference"

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I might explain this provision by saying that the American doctrine has always been that every man who faces the bar of justice is presumed innocent until the contrary is proven beyond a reasonable doubt. This act as it stands at the present time you will notice provides that the proof of manufacture, sale, offering for sale, furnishing, transportation, possessing, exportation, or importation of any intoxicating liquors shall raise a presumption that the same was for beverage purposes, and the burden of proving the contrary shall rest upon the accused. In other words that takes away the American doctrine as it is at the present time, and the moment they show that a man is in possession of alcoholic liquor the presumption arises that he is guilty of having it for beverage purposes, and the Commonwealth will rest. If nothing else is produced, the defendant must go on the witness stand which is contrary to all criminal law because no criminal law so far has ever compelled a man to go on the stand and no district attorney and no one else can raise the question that the witness go on the stand. Nobody can raise that question. The defendant does not have to go on the stand in his own defense, and yet if this section prevails as it is at the present time he is compelled to go on the witness stand and answer that accusation, and the accusation merely is that he had it in his possession, and if he does it the court can instruct the jury as a matter of law that he is guilty under this act. I say that is contrary to the American doctrine that every man who faces a court of justice is presumed guilty until the contrary is proven beyond a reasonable doubt. Therefore I think the meaning and the intention of this act is fully carried out when it is amended as it is amended here to read as follows, if you will follow me while I read it.

"When proof of the manufacture, sale, offering for sale, furnishing, transportation, possession, exportation, or importation of any intoxicating liquors has been given in evidence the jury may infer that the same was for beverage purposes."

But that is all the further any act goes to-day, and the only act before this that comes near trangressing the old doctrine is that of carrying concealed deadly weapons with the intent to do bodily harm, and the words of that deadly weapon act are precisely as I have amended, or propose to amend, this section. It says that on the proof of the manufacture "the jury may infer," and it seems to me that that is all the further this act should go, or that any one should go in prosecuting a man in the criminal courts, for it is only there that true justice can be obtained. This act is trangressing a principle that is founded in our earliest traditions, and it is dangerous as I say to transgress an old rule like that even in an act of this kind. I ask you gentlemen, therefore, in the name of that old doctrine to sustain it, for this amendment makes no change, with the exception that it shifts the burden of proof, and it still maintains the presumption of innocence at all times, which the doctrine of the criminal law has always intended that it should.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, in arising at this time to express my opinion, I wish to say that I agree with the remarks and the analysis made by the gentleman from Delaware, and only want to add and to call to your attention this fact, that by virtue of this law it is not unlawful to posses liquors as defined therein, and to possess intoxicating liquor for personal use. Isn't it therefore anomalous in the same statute to make it lawful for any one to possess intoxicating liquors, and in the same statute to raise without further proof the presumption of guilt in the possession. Gentlemen, it seems to me that that is so apparent that every member of the House should support this amendment.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, at the request of the Attorney General I wish to ask the House to vote down this amendment. The gentleman from Philadelphia, who has proceeded me has apparently misunderstood the purpose of this section. This section does not apply to the individual as stated. This section applies to the person who holds a license. He is licensed for certain purposes. He is licensed to sell what is called liquor. If he has on the premises where he sells the liquors, as defined in the act any liquors which are illegal under the act the presumption then arises that he has those, let us call them hard liquors, for an illegal purpose. If he has them on his trucks to move them from place to place, transporting them, it is presumed that being licensed to sell any intoxicating liquors he is transporting those hard liquors for an illegal purpse. If he is found manufacturing them upon his place of business, then there is the same inhibition. This provision does not apply to the individual who may, under the law, have in his own home for his private use and consumption, hard liquor, but it applies as I said to the man who is licensed and to him only. Therefore, the general proposition submitted to you by my colleague from Philadelphia, is not applicable.

The gentleman from Delaware has referred to the old American doctrine. Let me call it the Anglo-Saxon doctrine, that everyone is innocent until he is proven guilty, but it so happens that the State seeks to take a different view of certain things. In 1860 there was a codifying of the criminal laws of this State and even in view of what my friend from Delaware has said, the Supreme Court, not only of this State but of the United States, in supporting the act of 1860 with reference to conceal deadly weapons, has said that when a man is carrying a concealed weapon, whether the chambers are loaded or unloaded, it is presumption that he is carrying it for an unlawful purpose. Thereupon, the burden of proof shifts under the law from the Commonwealth to the defendant, and the defendant then has the right to overcome that presumption and prove himself justified in carrying those arms. And that is all this act does. I felt the same way as my colleague from Delaware until I went into a discussion with the Attorney General on this point, and he showed me the absolute analogy under the law between this provision and the provision in our firearms act. It applies not only as to the ownership but as to the proof in regard to the man who is licensed to sell it, to sell what is called liquor under this act, and therefore, it seems to me, gentlemen, if we are to leave everything to the inference of a jury, we are running into dangerous paths. Let there be a presumption fairly stated and met by the defendant. The result is that you will more clearly convince a jury that the presumption is met by the man, but if you leave it to an inference, you and I know what we may infer, but a presumption is something that should be met with proof by that man himself. I trust you will support the Attorney General in your vote against this amendment.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I must differ on the question raised by the gentleman from Philadelphia. The gentleman is a little stale on his law, on the law relating to the carrying of concealed deadly weapons. There is nothing in the act referred to, in the act which he cites, which says that the burden shifts. Within two weeks I heard the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania say to the District Attorney of Delaware county that the burden never shifts. If so, the minute the Commonwealth got through with its testimony and the defendant sat mute, the court would have to say, as a matter of law, that this defendant was guilty, and that was never the intention of the law of this great United States. I do not care whether it is the Anglo-Saxon law or not, I am proud of it as it is, because I know in foreign countries like France and some other countries, every man is supposed to be guilty until he proves he is innocent. I know there is no man with red blood in his veins who wants to go back to the French law. I say to you again that the act referring to the carrying of concealed deadly weapons has in it the exact language that we find here. This language is written out of the act relating to the carrying of concealed deadly weapons and says that the jury may infer. That is all there is to it. Why should the presumption shift? Why should the burden be any greater for a case of this kind than in any other case? Now, my friend from Philadelphia says that this only refers to the license dealers. I want you to look at section twenty of the act. It says, "that from and after the passage of this act, any person who shall manufacture"—any person, not any person with a license, but ny person—"who shall manufacture, sell, offer for sale, furnish, transport, import, export, or possess any intoxicating liquors within the State for beverage purposes except as hereinafter provided." Any person not any person with a license, but that means any person at all. Look at section 22, which says "it shall not be unlawful to possess intoxicating liquor in one's private dwelling." And yet, in section twenty-one it provides that at the present time, even if a man should have the liquor in his pocket for his own personal use, the possession of that shifts the burden on him and says that the carrying of it is illegal and makes the man go on the witness stand to explain his possession of it. That is contrary to our American institution. Thank God the present is Anglo-Saxon, and I trust that this Legislature will not change back to the French law.

Mr. STERLING. Well, Mr. Speaker, if it was the purpose of the Attorney General or those interested in the passing of this measure as it now stands on the file folio, it seems to me they should have included the expression that section twenty-one should be restricted to those only who are licensed dealers in liquor. Anyone who can read the English language, and I wish you would turn to this act on folio 4113, and glance at it with me, you will find clearly in section twenty a reference to any person who possesses liquor shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. There is no limitation there or reference only to those who are licensed. As my friend from Delaware said, section twenty-two says that the limitations are general. In other words, the word "possess," I submit to you, under any possible interpretation of this section, would apply not only to those who are licensed to sell liquor but also to the man who possesses liquor. Some reference has been made to a trial by jury. Gentlemen, you all know that the very foundation of justice in this Commonwealth and in these United States is the trial by jury, and I am surprised that my colleague from Philadelphia should now raise the question of the possible unfairness of a trial by jury. I again appeal to you, gentlemen, to support this amendment to this section.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I have listened with a great deal of interest to this discussion. I have only a lay mind. I cannot penetrate the ways of legal technicalities, but I want to say to you that if you want to tear down the whole foundation and allow the superstructure to fall as though it were mere kindling wood, then vote for this amendment. The Attorney General of this Commonwealth, in whose legal conception, whose learning of the law, his knowledge of decisions and his judgment I have the utmost confidence, not over twenty minutes ago told me in his own office that if you wipe out the presumption in that clause, which is called for by this amendment, you take away about eighty per cent. of the enforcing virtue of this act. I want to say to you that I came down to this session of the Legislature bent upon doing what I could to obtain same enforceable, some workable act by which we could stop the flagrant, disgraceful violation of the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States. It is my personal conception of my duty as a citizen that I should obey every law, no matter whether I agree with that law or not. And I say to you that we must have every atom of virtue and of power, and if you will allow me to use a slang expression, I will tell you, gentlemen of this House, we must have all the teeth that are in this bill

If you are going to permit these teeth to be drawn out on a mass of legal technicalities and some specious objections that are raised by lawyers who are setting their judgment against the judgment of the Attorney General of our Commonwealth, whose judgment was seconded and endorsed by the great Governor of this Commonwealth—if you are going to do a thing like that, then, gentlemen, you are going to do that which would be a serious thing and it would be a very great error. Listen to me a moment: This is not a trifling matter; this is not a technical matter. It simply means this: Under the act which is very clear to all of us that the manufacture and sale or offering for sale or furnishing for sale, having possession, or for the transportation, importation and exportation of an intoxicating beverage in the State of Pennsylvania, that shall constitute a misdemeanor. Now, gentlemen of the House, there is a chalk line drawn which says, "Thus far and no farther shalt thou go." Every man who violates this law does it with his eyes open; he does it openly. Every licensee who has an intoxicating beverage in his place of business knows full well what he is doing, knowing the stipulation that he shall not have it therein. There is one thing I want to call your attention to in this alleged presumption of guilt: It says, in the same clause, "except as medicine." Therefore, the only defense that any man could make for the possession in his licensed place, or elsewhere, of an intoxicating drink would be simply the defense that he had it for medicinal purposes, and even in the licensed place, why should a man have his medicine in his place of business? I don't keep my medicine in my place of business; I keep it in my home. I want to call your attention to this: There is not anything in that clause that permits any officer of the law to invade your home. You can place intoxicating liquors in your home. There is no "search and seizure" clause in this bill; this is the nearest approach to that. If you will vote in favor of this amendment and go against the Attorney General and the Governor of the State of Pennsylvania you will simply tear down the whole structure they have built and endeavored to work out.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, I hoped that this would be a measure in which those of us who represent rather liberal territory than dry territory could find a common ground on which we could get together. The other provisions of the act are acceptable. I cannot, as one of the representatives of my district and as a lawyer, agree to the provisions of this act as they are at the present time. I have the very highest regard for the Attorney General and a very proper respect for his legal opinion, but he is not infallible; if he were, then we could very well dispense with our appellate courts. I can state frankly to those representing this administration that if these amendments are accepted I will gladly vote for this bill. What we want is to get the enforcement of a measure that will be acceptable and that can be properly enforced and not be declared unconstitutional in the first decision in which it is appealed from. We all know that the Volstead act, which has bred more contempt for the law than any statute that has ever been placed into the laws of either the State Constitution or the Federal Constitution—more than has ever been written into the statute books of any state in the United States, and even the Volstead Act does not go so far as to presume that the person presumed to be selling intoxicating liquors shall be adjudged guilty. Are we going to, just for the sake of having a prohibition act in this State, strike down a law which we have followed for ages? Is there any necessity for it? Surely we have confidence in our courts and in our jury system and if a case is presented, why assume a presumption of guilt or shall we presume him to be innocent until proven guilty? A man may not be a liquor dealer; he may be an individual who, because he happens to possess liquor, or has liquor in his possession, is presumed to be guilty of a violation of this act. Gentlemen, we are willing to meet you even on common ground. I hope you will not go so far and insist on this measure in its present form and accept these amendments made by the gentleman from Delaware.

Mr. GREEN. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by the following members: Messrs. Golder, Dunn, Harer, McGowan, McCurdy, Dilsheimer, Baldi, Ehrhardt, Sowers, Hess, Brooks, Trainer, Joseph Marcus, Campbell, McCann, McOwen, Eaches, Stadtlander, Fowler, Love and others.

The SPEAKER. More than twenty members having joined in moving the previous question,

On the question,

Shall the main question be put?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Sterling and Mr. Woner.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I ask that the roll be verified.

Whereupon, the roll was verified as follows:

House Bill No. 44.

Fifth The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall cause the articles of agreement aforesaid together with the proceedings had thereon and certificate to the Governor after the approval of the Governor has been endorsed on said articles of agreement and letters patent have been issued to be recorded in a book kept for that purpose and he shall return one of the said articles of agreement to the society which shall have the same recorded in the recorder's office of the county in which the principal office of the said society is located

Sixth The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall furnish the Insurance Commissioner with a certified copy of said letters patent and shall also certify the duplicate articles of agreement with all endorsements thereon and file same in the office of the Insurance Commissioner and certified copies of the same may be used in evidence for or against the society with the same effect as the original

Section 13 Any society heretofore organized or incorporated under any act of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania which is now engaged in transacting business in this Commonwealth may exercise after the passage of this act all the rights conferred hereby and all the rights powers privileges and exemptions now exercised or possessed by it under its charter or articles of incorporation or articles of association or at its option it may be reincorporated or reorganized hereunder but no society already incorporated shall be required to reincorporate hereunder nor shall its existence as a corporation nor its right to exercise any corporate rights vested in it by virtue of its past incorporation be affected by anything contained herein

Section 14 The Insurance Commissioner or any person or persons he may appoint shall have the power of visitation and examination into the affairs of every domestic society He may employ such additional assistants from time to time as he may deem necessary or expedient for the purpose of such examination and he or any person or persons he may appoint shall have free access to all the books papers and documents that relate to the business of the society and may summon and qualify as witness under oath and examine its officers and employes or other persons in relation to the affairs transactions and conditions of the society

Whenever after examination the Insurance Commissioner is satisfied that any domestic society is exceeding its powers or is transacting business fraudulently or is in such condition that its further transaction of business will be hazardous to its members or to the public or shall determine to discontinue business the Insurance Commissioner may present the facts relating thereto to the Attorney General who shall if he deem the circumstances warrant proceed against such society in the method prescribed by the laws of this State providing for the liquidation of insolvent or delinquent companies orders or associations transacting any class of insurance

No such proceedings shall be commenced by the Attorney General against any such society until after notice has been duly served on the chief executive officers of the society and a reasonable opportunity given to it on a date to be named in said notice to show cause why such proceedings should not be commenced No application for injunction against or proceedings for the dissolution of or appointment of a receiver for any domestic society or branch thereof shall be entertained by any court of this Commonwealth unless the same is made by the Attorney General

Section 15 No domestic society shall merge with or reinsure with or accept the transfer of the membership or funds of any other society unless such merger or transfer is evidenced by a contract in writing setting forth in full the terms and conditions of such merger or transfer and filed with the Insurance Commissioner of this Commonwealth together with a sworn statement of the financial condition of each of said societies by its president and secretary or corresponding officers and a certificate of such offices duly verified under oath of said officers of each of the contracting societies that such merger or transfer has been approved by a vote of two-thirds of the members of the supreme legislative or governing body of each of said societies

Upon the submission of the said contract financial statements and certificates the Insurance Commissioner shall examine the same and if he shall find such financial statements to be correct and the said contract to be in conformity with the provisions of this section and that such merger or transfer is just and equitable to the members of each of said societies he shall approve said merger or transfer issue his certificate to that effect and thereupon the said contract of merger or transfer shall be of full force and effect In case such contract is not approved the fact of its submission and its contents shall not be disclosed by the Insurance Commissioner

Section 16 Foreign societies which are now authorized to transact business in this Commonwealth may continue such business until the first day of April next succeeding the passage of this act and the authority of such societies may thereafter be renewed annually but in all cases to terminate on the first day of the succeeding April Every license shall continue in full force and effect until the new license be issued or specifically refused For each license or renewal the society shall pay the Insurance Commissioner twenty dollars A duly certified copy or duplicate of such license shall be prima facie evidence that the licensee is a fraternal benefit society within the meaning of this act providing it may invest its assets as required by the laws of the State district territory province or country where it is organized

Section 17 No foreign society shall transact any business in this Commonwealth without a license from the Insurance Commissioner Any such society may be licensed upon filing with the commissioner (a) A duly certified copy of its charter or articles of association (b) A copy of its constitution and laws certified by its secretary or corresponding officer (c) A power of attorney to the Insurance Commissioner as hereinafter provided (d) A statement of its business under oath of its president and secretary or corresponding officers in the form required by the commissioner and duly verified by an examination made by the supervising insurance official of its home state or other state satisfactory to the Insurance Commissioner of this Commonwealth (e) A certificate from the proper official in its home state province or county that the society is legally organized (f) A copy of its certificate of membership which must show that benefits are provided for by periodical or other payments by persons holding similar certificates and furnishing the commissioner with such other information as he may deem necessary to a proper exhibit of its business and plan of working

Upon compliance with these requirements such foreign society shall be licensed to do business in this Commonwealth until the first day of the succeeding April and such license shall upon compliance with the provisions of this act be renewed annually as hereinbefore provided

Every foreign society desiring admission to this Commonwealth shall have the qualifications required of domestic societies organized under this act upon a valuation by any one of the Standards authorized in section twenty-three of this act and have its assets invested as required by the laws of the state territory district country or province wherein it is organized When the Insurance Commissioner refuses to license any society or revokes its authority to do business in this State he shall reduce his ruling or decision to writing and file the same in his office and shall furnish a copy thereof together with a statement of his reason to the officers of the society upon request and the action of the Insurance Commissioner shall be reviewable by proper proceedings in any court of competent jurisdiction within the Commonwealth Nothing contained in this or the preceding section shall however be taken or construed as preventing any such society from continuing in good faith all contracts made in this Commonwealth during the time such society was legally authorized to transact business herein

Section 18 Every foreign society now doing business in or applying for admission to this Commonwealth shall by a duly executed instrument filed in the office of the Insurance Commissioner constitute and appoint the Insurance Commissioner or his successor its true and lawful attorney upon whom all lawful processes in any action or legal proceedings against it may be served and therein shall agree that any lawful process against it which may be served upon him as its said attorney shall be of the same force and validity as if served on the society and that the authority shall continue in force irrevocable so long as any liability of the society remains outstanding in this Commonwealth

The service of such process shall be made by registered mail or by leaving copies of the same in duplicate in the hands or office of the commissioner at Harrisburg One copy of such instrument certified by the commissioner or his deputy as having been served upon him shall be deemed valid service upon the society

When legal process is served upon the commissioner as attorney for a foreign society he shall forthwith forward one of the duplicate copies of process served on him to its secretary or corresponding officer or to such other person as may have been previously designated by the society by written notice filed in the office of the Commissioner As a condition of valid and effective service and of the duty of the commissioner in the premises the plaintiff in each such process shall pay to the commissioner at the time of service thereof the sum of two dollars which the said plaintiff shall recover as taxable costs if he prevails in the suit The commissioner shall keep a record of all such processes which shall show the day and hour of service

Section 19 The Insurance Commissioner or his deputy or examiner or any person whom he may appoint may examine any foreign society transacting or applying for admission to transact business in this Commonwealth The said Insurance Commissioner may employ assistants and he or any person he may appoint shall have free access to all the books papers and documents that relate to the business of the society He may summon and qualify as witness under oath and examine its officers agents and employes and other persons in relation to the affairs transactions and conditions of the society He may in his discretion accept in lieu of such examination the examination of the Insurance Department of the state territory district province or country where such society is organized The actual expense of the examiners making any such examination shall be paid by the society upon statement furnished by the Insurance Commissioner.

If any society or its officers refuse to submit to such examination or to comply with the provisions of the section relative thereto the authority of such society to write new business in this Commonwealth shall be suspended or license refused until satisfactory evidence is furnished the Insurance Commissioner relating to the condition and affairs of the society and during such suspension the society shall not write new business in this Commonwealth

Section 20 When the Insurance Commissioner on investigation is satisfied that any foreign society transacting business under this act has exceeded its power or has failed to comply with any provisions of this act or is conducting business fraudulently he shall notify the society of his findings in writing the grounds of his dissatisfaction and after reasonable notice require the society on a date fixed to show cause why its license should not be revoked

If on the date named in said notice such objections have not been removed to the satisfaction of the said Insurance Commissioner or the society does not present good and sufficient reasons why its authority to transact business in this Commonwealth should not at that time be revoked he may revoke the authority of the society to continue business in this Commonwealth

Section 21 Pending during or after an examination or investigation of any society either domestic or foreign the Insurance commissioner shall make public no financial statement report or finding nor shall he permit to become public any financial statement report or finding affecting the status standing or rights of any such society until a copy thereof shall have been served upon such society at its home office nor until such society has been afforded a reasonable opportunity to answer any such financial statement report or finding and to make such showing in connection therewith as it may desire

Section 22 All decisions and findings of the Commissioner made under this act shall be reduced to writing and filed in his office and he shall furnish a copy thereof together with a statement of his reasons to the officers of the society and such action of the Commissioner shall be reviewable by proper proceedings of any court of competent jurisdiction by appeal or other proceeding for review and such appeal or other proceeding for review shall be a supersedeas and in every case the said decision order or ruling of the Insurance Commissioner shall be suspended and abide the final determination of the appeal or other proceeding for review

Section 23 Every society transacting business under this act shall annually on or before the first day of March file with the Insurance Commissioner in such form as he may require a statement under oath of its president and secretary or corresponding officers of its transactions for the calendar year ending December thirty-first preceding and of its conditions and standing on that date and shall include therein all accrued liability under unpaid claims where notice was received by the society at its home office before the end of such calendar year and the same were approved for payment before the filing of the report No society shall be required to include in such report any claim or claims notice of which had not been received by the society at its home office before the end of such year It shall also furnish such other information as the Insurance Commissioner may deem necessary to a proper exhibit of its business and plan of working The Commissioner may at other times require any further statement he may deem necessary to be made relating to such society

In addition to the annual report herein required each society shall annually report to the Commissioner a valuation of its benefit fund obligations in force on December thirty-first last preceding excluding those entered into within the year for which the report is filed in cases where the contributions for the first year in whole or in part are used for current expenses Such report of valuation shall show as contingent liabilities the present mid-year value of the promised benefits provided in the constitution and laws of such society under certificates then subject to valuation at not more than the average rate of interest earned on its invested assets during five calendar years preceding the date of such annual report less such portion thereof as may have been assumed by other associations or companies and as contingent assets the present mid-year value at the same rate of interest of the future net contributions provided in its constitution and laws as the same are in practice actually collected

From the above resulting balance may be deducted the present worth at the same rate of interest of the probable future annual savings in death losses below the estimated mortality in the mortality table used in said valuation calculated on the basis of the average annual savings in death losses during the five calendar years preceding the date of such annual report

In lieu of the above valuation any society at its option may show the net value of its benefit fund obligations subject to valuation at the rate of interest as hereinbefore provided and said net value when computed in the case of monthly contributions may be the means of the terminal values for the end of the preceding and of the current certificate years from which said tabular values shall be deducted such portion thereof as may have been assumed by other associations or companies and in addition there may be deducted the present worth of the probable future annual savings in death losses as specified in the preceding paragraph

Every such valuation report shall include as a contingent liability an estimate made by or on behalf of the society of the probable future payments under unpaid claims notice of which was received by the society at its home office before the end of the calendar year covered by the annual report but which has not been approved for payment at the date of such report

Deferred payments or installments of claims whether involving a life contingency or not shall be included in the valuation report as contingent liabilities on the happening of the contingency upon which such payments or installments are thereafter to be paid All such liability shall be the present worth of such future payments or installments at the average rate of interest earned by the society during the five calendar years preceding the date of such annual report

Each valuation report shall be certified by a competent accountant or actuary or at the request and expense of the society verified by the actuary of the department of insurance of the home state of the society and shall be filed with the Insurance Commissioner on or before the first day of June succeeding the submission of the last preceding annual report

The minimum standard of valuation for all benefit fund obligations except for disability and dependent benefits shall be the National Fraternal Congress Table of Mortality hereinbefore referred to or at the option of the society by any other standard table or a table based upon the society's own experience of at least twenty years and covering not less than one hundred thousand lives with an interest assumption of not more than the average rate of interest earned on its invested assets during the five calendar years preceding such annual report

Every valuation report shall set forth clearly and fully the mortality and interest basis and the method of valuation Any society providing for disability benefits shall keep a separate account of the same in its said valuation report shall charge as a liability the balance to the credit of such fund or funds at the date of such valuation Where a combined contribution table is used by a society for both death and permanent and total disability benefits the valuation may be of death benefit only and in such case a separate accounting shall not be required

A report of such valuation with such explanation as the society may deem advisable shall be printed and mailed to each beneficial member of the society not later than July first of each year or in lieu thereof may be published in the society's official paper and the issue containing the same mailed to each beneficial member of the society The valuation herein provided for shall not be considered or regarded as a test of the financial solvency of the society but each society shall be held to be legally solvent so long as the funds in its possession are equal to or in excess of its matured liabilities

Section 23B In lieu of the valuation hereinbefore required any society may value its certificates on a basis herein designated "accumulated basis" by crediting each member with the net amount contributed for each year and with interest at approximately the net rate earned and by charging him with his share of the losses for each year herein designated "cost of insurance" and carrying the balance if any to his credit The charge for the cost of insurance may be according to the actual experience of the society as applied to a table of mortality recognized by the law of this Commonwealth and shall take into consideration the amount at risk during each year which shall be the amount payable at death less the credit to the member

Unless specifically provided in its constitution or laws no charge shall be carried forward from the first valuation hereunder against any member for any past share of losses exceeding the contributions and credit If after the first valuation any member's share of losses for any year exceeds his credit including the contributions for the year the contributions shall be increased to cover his share of the losses

Any such excess share of losses chargeable to any member may be paid out of a fund or contributions especially created or required for such purpose Any member may transfer to any plan adopted by the society with the net rates on which tabular reserves are maintained and on transfer shall be entitled to take such application of his credit as provided in the laws of the society Certificates issued rerated or readjusted on a basis providing for adequate rates with adequate reserves to mature such certificates upon assumption for mortality and interest recognized by the law of this Commonwealth shall be valued on such basis herein designated the "tabular basis" Provided That if on the first valuation under this section a deficiency in reserve shall be shown for any such certificate the same shall be valued on the accumulation basis

Whenever in any society having members upon the tabular basis and upon the accumulation basis the total of all costs of insurance provided for any year shall be insufficient to meet the actual death and disability losses for the year the deficiency may be met for the year from the available funds after setting aside all credits in the reserve or from increased contributions or by an increase in the number of assessments applied in the society as a whole or to classes of members as may be specified in its laws Savings from a lower amount of death losses may be returned in like manner as may be specified in its laws

If the laws of the society so provide the assets representing the reserves of any separate class of members may be carried separate for such class as if in an independent society and the required reserve accumulation of such class so set apart shall not thereafter be merged with the assets of other classes of the society

A table showing the credits to individual members for each age and year of entry and showing opposite each credits the tabular reserve required in the whole life or other plan of insurance specified in the contract according to assumptions for mortality and interest recognized by the law of this Commonwealth and adopted by the society shall be filed by the society with each annual report and also be furnished to each member before July first of each year

In lieu of the aforesaid statement there may be furnished to each member within the same time a statement giving the credit for such member and giving the tabular reserve and level rate required for the transfer carrying out the plan of insurance specified in the contract No table or statement need be made or furnished where the reserves are maintained on the tabular basis For this purpose individual bookkeeping accounts for each member shall not be required and all calculations may be made by actuarial methods

Nothing herein contained shall prevent the maintenance of such surplus over and above the credits on the accumulation basis and the reserves on the tabular basis as any society may provide by or pursuant to its laws nor be construed as giving to the individual member any right or claim to any such reserve or credit other than in manner and as expressed in its constitution and laws

If the valuation of the certificates as hereinbefore provided shall show that the present value of future net contributions together with the admitted assets is less than the present value of the promised benefits and accrued liabilities such society shall have the power either to collect additional assessments or to increase the rates of contribution from the members to meet such deficiency and such society shall also have the power to classify its members according to the adequacy of the rates they are contributing and charge each class with its proportion of any deficiency disclosed by a valuation

Section 24 An person or officer member or examining physician of any society authorized to do business under this act who shall knowingly or wilfully make any false or fraudulent statement or representation in or with reference to any application for membership or for the purpose of obtaining money from or benefits in any society transacting business under this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars or imprisonment in the county jail for not less than thirty days or more than one year or both in the discretion of the court

Any person who shall wilfully make a false statement of any material fact or thing in a sworn statement as to the death or disability of a certificate holder in any such society for the purpose of procuring payment of a benefit named in the certificate of such holder and any person who shall wilfully make any false statement in any verified report or declaration under oath required or authorized by this act shall be guilty of perjury and shall be proceeded against and punished as provided by the statutes of this Commonwealth in relation to the crime of perjury

Section 25 Any person who shall solicit membership for or in any manner assist in procuring membership in any fraternal benefit society not authorized to do business in this Commonwealth shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty nor more than two hundred dollars Any officer agent or employe of any society neglecting or refusing to comply with or violating any of the provisions of this act the penalty for which refusal or violation is not specified shall upon conviction thereof be fined not exceeding two hundred dollars

Section 26 Any person who publishes spreads or communicates or causes to be published spread or communicated any false statement or rumor concerning any fraternal benefit society operating under the provisions of this act for the purpose of inducing any member to cancel his certificate therein or withdraw therefrom or with the intent to lessen the value of any such certificate shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars

Section 27 Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to affect or apply to grand or subordinate lodges of purely social or labor organizations nor to societies which limit their membership to any one hazardous occupation nor to domestic societies which limit their membership to a particular religion or to the employes of a particular city or town designated firm business house or corporation nor to domestic lodges orders or associations of a purely religious charitable and benevolent description which do not provide for a benefit of more than three hundred dollars to any one person in any one year

And this act shall not be construed to affect or apply to similar societies which do not issue benefit certificates nor to an association of local lodges of a society now doing business in the Commonwealth which provide death benefits not to exceed five hundred dollars to any one person or disability benefits not exceeding three hundred dollars in any one year to any one person or both nor to any contracts of re-insurance business on such plan in this Commonwealth But any society conducting an insurance branch and issuing certificates and paying death benefits of more than five hundred dollars such insurance branch of that society shall comply with all the provisions of this act

Any society heretofore organized and now actually operating in this Commonwealth which limits its membership to the members of one or more fraternal orders which said members are required to have been proposed elected by ballot initiated and obligated through subordinate lodges under prescribed ritualistic ceremonies shall be regarded as hereby complying with the requirements of this act as to subordinate lodges and the admission of members therein and shall upon compliance with all other provisions of this act be deemed a fraternal benefit society operating on the lodge system and entitled to a license as such hereunder

Section 28 Any fraternal benefit society heretofore organized and incorporated and operating within the definition set forth in section one of this act providing for benefits in case of death or disability resulting solely from accidents but which does not obligate itself to pay death or sick benefits generally may be licensed under the provisions of this act and shall have all the privileges and shall be subject to all the provisions of this act except the provisions requiring medical examination valuation of benefit fund obligations and that the certificate shall specify the amount of benefit

Section 29 Beneficial societies other than those specifically exempted herein without ritualistic work or a representative form of government transacting any class of insurance shall not be required to comply with this act All such societies or associations shall on and after the passage of this act file with the Insurance Commissioner copies of their charter constitution and laws and annually thereafter make a report in such form as the Commissioner may require showing their condition and standing on the thirty-first day of December preceding and of their transactions for the year and the Commissioner may at any time make an examination of the books and accounts of any such society

Section 30 Except as hereinbefore provided every fraternal benefit society secret fraternal beneficial society order or association and fraternal beneficial and relief association operating within the definition of section one shall be governed by this act and shall be exempt from all provisions of the insurance laws of this Commonwealth not only in governmental relations with the Commonwealth but for every other purpose and no law hereafter enacted shall apply to them unless they be expressly designated therein

Section 31 The act of April sixth one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three (Pamphlet Laws ten) entitled "An act regulating the organization and incorporation of secret fraternal beneficial societies orders or associations and protecting the rights of members therein" the act of April sixth one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three (Pamphlet Laws seven) entitled "an act defining fraternal beneficial and relief societies and their status authorizing them to create subordinate lodges and to pay benefits upon the sickness disability or death of their members from funds collected by dues and assessments therein providing for their registration in the office of the Insurance Commissioner and requiring that they shall make annual reports to him and exempting them from taxation and from the supervision of the Insurance Commissioner" the act of May twenty-fourth one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three (Pamphlet Laws one hundred and twenty-six) entitled "An act defining to whom the benefit certificates issued by fraternal societies paying benefits upon the death of their members by mutual assessments shall be paid wherever the person or member dies without leaving a person to receive the same" the act of June twenty-fifth one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five (Pamphlet Laws two hundred and eighty) entitled "An act to provide for the person upon whom service shall be had by legal process in the case of fraternal beneficial and relief societies whose status is defined by the Act of Assembly entitled "An act defining fraternal beneficial and relief societies and their status authorizing them to create subordinate lodges and to pay benefits upon the sickness disability or death of their members from funds collected by dues and assessments therein providing for their registration in the office of the Insurance Commissioner and requiring that they shall make annual reports to him and exempting them from taxation and from the supervision of the Insurance Commissioner" approved the sixth day of April Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three" the act of June twenty-fourth one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven (Pamphlet Laws two hundred and four) entitled "An act to enable minors above the age of eighteen years to contract for membership in fraternal and beneficial societies" and paragraph nine of corporations of the first class of section two of the act approved April twenty-ninth one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four entitled "An act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations" in so far as it applies to the incorporation of societies for the purpose of transacting any class of insurance and the act approved the twentieth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred and ten) entitled "An act relating to service of legal process upon any foreign fraternal beneficial or relief society company or association" are repealed All other acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act are repealed provided however that no repeal provided for in this section or otherwise shall affect the rights of societies heretofore incorporated to exercise all the corporate powers possessed by them at the time of the passage of this act

Act of one thousand nine hundred nineteen which authorizes service of process upon local officers of lodges of foreign societies is hereby repealed

ARTICLE III

RESERVE LIABILITY

(a) LIFE INSURANCE

Section 301 Computation of Reserve Liability The Insurance Commissioner shall each year compute the reserve liability as of the thirty-first day of December of the preceding year of every company authorized to make insurance on lives in this Commonwealth in accordance with the terms of the policy contract and the rules following

(a) The net value of all outstanding policies of life insurance issued by the company prior to the first day of January one thousand eight hundred and ninety shall be computed upon the basis of the American experience table of mortality with interest at not less than four and one-half and not more than six per centum per annum

(b) The net value of all outstanding policies issued between the first day of January one thousand eight hundred and ninety and the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and three on the combined experience or actuaries' table of mortality with interest at four per centum per annum

(c) The net value of all outstanding policies of life insurance issued on and after the first day of January nineteen hundred and three on the American experience table of mortality with interest at three and one-half per centum per annum

(d) The net value of all policies of life insurance issued on and after January first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one where the premiums are payable monthly or oftener shall be value according to the American experience table of mortality with interest at three and one-half per centum per annum But any company may voluntarily value its industrial policies according to the Standard Industrial Mortality table with interest at three and one-half per centum per annum

The net value of a policy at any time shall be taken to be the single net premium which will at that time effect the insurance less the value at that time of the future net premiums called for by the table of mortality and rate of interest designated

The legal minimum standard for valuation of annuities issued after January one one thousand nine hundred and twelve shall be McClintock's table of mortality among annuitants with interest at three and one-half per centum per annum but annuities deferred ten or more years and written in connection with life or term insurance shall be valued upon the same mortality table from which the consideration or premiums were computed with interest not higher than three and one-half per centum per annum

Any such company may however at any time elect to reserve on the American experience table of mortality with a lower rate of interest but at a rate not less than three per centum and its policy obligation shall thereafter be valued accordingly

The aggregate net value so ascertained of the policies of any such life insurance company shall be deemed its reserve liability to provide for which it shall hold funds in secure investments of an amount equal to such net value above all its other liabilities The Insurance Commissioner shall after having determined as above the net value of all the policies in force see that the company has that amount in safe legal securities after all its other debts and claims against it have been provided for The provisions of this section for the valuation of policies and for premium rates shall not apply to companies or associations transacting business on the mutual assessment plan

Section 302 Notice of Impairment of Funds Whenever any life insurance company doing business in this Commonwealth has not on hand the net value as above defined of all policies in force after all other debts and claims against it including fifty per centum of capital have been provided for the Insurance Commissioner shall notify such company and its agents to issue no new policies until its funds become equal to its liabilities

Section 303 Separate Liability of Companies Charging Less than Net Premiums Computed on Mortality Tables Unlawful to Issue Policies Below Rate Fixed in Mortality Tables When the actual premiums charged by any life insurance company doing business in the Commonwealth is less than the net premium for such insurance computed according to the table of mortality and rate of interest prescribed in this act such company shall be charged as a separate liability with the value of an annuity the amount of which shall equal the difference between such premiums and the term of which in years shall equal the number of future annual payments due on such insurance at the date of the valuation but it shall be unlawful for any such company to issue to a resident of this Commonwealth or for a domestic company to issue to a non-resident any insurance for a premium less than that prescribed by the table of mortality and rate of interest corresponding to the reserve value thereof

Section 304 Valuations by Other States The Insurance Commissioner shall accept the valuations made by the proper officer of the state under whose authority a life insurance company was organized when such valuations are made on a basis that will give values at least equal to the valuation above defined and when the state under which the company was organized accepts the valuations made by the Insurance Commissioner for the companies organized under the laws of this Commonwealth Each life insurance company shall furnish to the Insurance Commissioner on or before the first day of March in each year a certificate from the proper officer of such state setting forth the value of all the policies of the company in force on the previous thirty-first day of December Any company failing to furnish such certificate shall be required to make full detailed list of policies to the Insurance Commissioner and shall be liable for all charges and expenses resulting from the failure to furnish said certificate

Section 305 Valuation of Securities All bonds or other evidences of debt held by life insurance companies or fraternal beneficiary societies authorized to do business in this Commonwealth may if amply secured and if not in default as to principal or interest be valued as follows If purchased at par at the par value if purchased above or below par on the basis of the purchase price adjusted so as to bring the value at maturity and so as to yield meantime the effective rate of interest at which the purchase was made but the purchase price shall in no case be taken at a higher figure than the actual market value at the time of purchase The Insurance Commissioner shall have full discretion in determining the method of calculating values according to the foregoing rule and the values found by him in accordance with such method shall be final and binding Any such company or society may return such bonds or other evidences of debt at their market value or their book value but in no case at an aggregate value exceeding the aggregate of the values calculated according to the foregoing rule

This section shall not be construed to require any life insurance company or fraternal beneficiary society authorized to do business in this Commonwealth which shall not elect to value its bonds and other evidences of debt by amortization as herein provided to do so but any company or society electing to adopt the amortized basis shall continue to have its bonds valued upon that basis

(b) INSURANCE OTHER THAN LIFE INSURANCE

Section 310 Computation of Unearned Premium Liability In determining the liabilities upon its contracts of insurance of any insurance company other than life insurance companies and the amount such company should hold as an unearned premium liability the Insurance Commissioner shall for casualty insurance charge one-half of the premium on all annual policies written within one year and on policies written for more than one year he shall charge one-half of the current year's premiums plus the whole of the premiums for subsequent years For fire insurance he shall charge fifty per centum of the premiums written in their policies upon all unexpired risks that have one year or less than one year to run and a pro rata of all premiums on risks having more than one year to run on perpetual insurance he shall charge the cash deposit received less a surrender charge of not exceeding ten per centum thereof For marine and inland insurance he shall charge fifty per centum of the premium written in the policy upon yearly risks and upon risks covering more than one passage not terminated and the full amount of the premium written in the policy upon all other marine and inland risks not terminated

Section 311 Computation of Reserve Against Unpaid Losses in Casualty Insurance The Insurance Commissioner shall in calculating the reserve against unpaid losses of casualty companies other than losses under liability and workmen's compensation policies set down by careful estimate in each case the loss likely to be incurred against every claim presented or that may be presented in pursuance of notice from the insured of the occurrence of an event that may result in a loss The sum of the items so estimated shall be the total amount of the reserve except that in credit insurance fifty per centum of the premiums on all credit policies expiring in the months of October November and December of the current year less the amount of losses paid on such policies shall in addition thereto be charged in the loss reserve

(c) COMPENSATION AND LIABILITY INSURANCE

Section 312 Definitions The term "earned premiums" as used in sections 313 to 317 inclusive shall include gross premiums charged on all policies written including all determined excess and additional premiums less return premiums other than premiums returned to policy-holders as dividends and less reinsurance premiums and premiums on policies canceled and less unearned premiums on policies in force But any participating company which has charged in its premiums a loading solely for dividends shall not be required to include such loading in its earned premiums provided a statement of the amount of such loading has been filed with and approved by the Insurance Commissioner

The word "compensation" shall relate to all insurance effected by virtue of statutes providing compensation to employes for personal injuries irrespective of fault of the employer

The word "liability" shall relate to all insurance except compensation insurance against loss or damage from accident to or injuries suffered by an employe or other person and for which the insured is liable

The terms "loss payments" and "loss expense payments" shall include all payments to claimants including payments for medical and surgical attendance legal expenses salaries and expenses of investigators adjusters and field men rents stationery telegraph and telephone charges postage salaries and expenses of office employes home office expenses and all other payments made on account of claims whether such payments shall be allocated to specific claims or unallocated

Section 313 Computation of Reserve The reserve required of stock and mutual casualty insurance companies and exchanges for outstanding losses under insurance against loss or damage from accident to or injuries suffered by an employe or other person and for which the insured is liable shall be computed as follows

(a) For all liability suits being defended under policies written more than

I Ten years prior to the date as of which the statement is made one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500) for each suit

II Five and less than ten years prior to date as of which the statement is made one thousand dollars ($1,000) for each suit

III Three and less than five years prior to the date as of which the statement is made eight hundred and fifty dollars ($850) for each suit
